Blanket SC fiat to all states to go after hate speech makers suo motu

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday directed all states/UTs to take suo motu action against hate speech irrespective of registration of a complaint and without discrimination on grounds of religion.

A bench of justices K M Joseph and B V Nagarathna extended to all states its order dated October 21, 2022 by which it had directed police chiefs of Delhi, Uttarakhand, and Uttar Pradesh to take suo motu action against hate speeches made by people from any religion without waiting for a formal complaint to all states/UTs.

The court while dealing with pleas seeking to regulate hate speech also warned officers that hesitation to act would be viewed as contempt of court.

Terming the offence of hate speech serious as it goes to "the heart of our republic" and has the "capability of affecting the fabric of nation", Justice Joseph said, "We are very clear, our order was irrespective of religion. We only had public good in mind when we passed the order for suo motu action against hate speech. We are only on the rule of law... Preventive measures have not been adequately explored against hate speech."

Totally apolitical

"Both of us are totally apolitical. We don't care if it is party A, B or C. We only care about the Constitution and the laws of the country," Justice Joseph said

Action must be taken "irrespective of the religion that the maker of the speech or the person who commit such act belongs to, so that the secular character of Bharat as is envisaged by the Preamble, is preserved and protected," the bench's order read.

When Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, appearing for the Centre, said the SC cannot go on entertaining intervention applications and substitute the powers of the magistrate, the bench said it was doing so against hate speech in the larger public good and to ensure establishment of the rule of law.

"We have laid down a broad framework and now it is up to the authorities to act upon it. We cannot monitor each and every incident," Justice Nagarathna agreed.

Core sector growth halves to 3.6% in March

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

INDIA's core sector growth halved to a five-month low of 3.6% in March 2023 from 7.2% in February, dragged by poor performance of crude oil, power and cement production, government data released on Friday showed.

Core sector output could have been hit by unseasonal rains, said Aditi Nayar, chief economist at ICRA. "The halving in the YoY core sector... was fairly broad-based, with only coal and crude oil displaying a sequential improvement," she added.

The output of core sectors had increased by 4.8% in March 2022. The previous low was 0.7% in October 2022.

According to the data for March 2023, coal production recorded an increase of 12.2%, fertilisers 9.7%, steel 8.8%, natural gas 2.8% and refinery products 1.5%.

The data showed that the growth rate of the eight infrastructure sectors — coal, crude oil, natural gas, refinery products, fertilisers, steel, cement and electricity — stood at 7.6% in FY23, down from 10.4% recorded in 2021-22.

Analysts say core sector will be under pressure this year due to weakening global and domestic demand.

The index of the eight core industries measures combined and individual performance of production of eight core industries and it makes up 40.27% of the weight of items included in the Index of Industrial Production (IIP).

Dr G suffers head injury at K'gere rally

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Tumakuru

TENSION prevailed in Koratagere Assembly constituency on Friday after former deputy chief minister and Congress MLA Dr G Parameshwara sustained a severe head injury at a rally. The incident occurred at Bhyrenahalli village in the constituency where Dr Parameshwara was campaigning.

In a video clip, Dr Parameshwara is seen being lifted up by a group of people when petals were showered on him from an excavator. The group lowered Dr Parameshwara after seeing him bleeding profusely. A closer look revealed a deep wound on his head.

Chances of a stone hitting him cannot be ruled out, according to sources. But a confidant of Dr Parameshwara told TNIE that two fans of Dr Parameshwar were holding huge party flags tied to poles and one of them might have hit him.

Police said they are examining CCTVs in the area.

After administering first aid at a local hospital, Dr Parameshwara was shifted to Siddhartha Medical College Hospital. His condition is stable, sources told TNIE.

Yatnal calls Sonia 'vishkanya', Congress bays for his blood

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Hubballi/Bengaluru

A day after AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge's "venomous snake" jibe at Prime Minister Narendra Modi, senior BJP leader Basangouda Patil Yatnal gave a new twist to the controversy by calling former AICC president Sonia Gandhi a "vishkanya" and an "agent of Pakistan and China".

Yatnal's diatribe at a public rally at Yelburga in Koppal district in North Karnataka invited the wrath of Congress leaders, who demanded his expulsion from BJP.

"If Kharge compares Modi to a venomous snake, is their leader Sonia Gandhi a vishkanya? Sonia Gandhi is an agent of China and Pakistan," Yatnal said and accused Congress leader Mani Shankar Aiyar of seeking the help of Pakistan to overthrow the BJP government.

Basangouda Patil Yatnal, senior BJP leader

"Because of such statements, Kharge lost his Kalaburagi seat. How can he compare Modi, who has emerged as a world leader, to a venomous snake," he asked.

Several Congress leaders, including Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) president DK Shivakumar, slammed Yatnal for his remarks against Sonia. "When a party worker like me was sent to Tihar Jail, Sonia Gandhi visited me there. This gave strength to me as well as all Congress workers. Yatnal has termed such a woman a vishkanya. Congress will not tolerate it," Shivakumar said.

Modi and Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai should apologise, besides dismissing Yatnal from BJP, he added.

"Desperation and despair have made BJP stoop to name calling. Their star campaigner Yatnal called Sonia Gandhi vishkanya and agent of China and Pakistan. Does the PM approve of this? He should immediately expel Yatnal and apologise to Gandhi," said senior Congress leader Jairam Ramesh. CONTINUED ON: P4

JDS banks on turncoats to cross 50 seats

Party believes 17 of 26 candidates have strong chances of winning, to give party negotiating power

CHETAN MG @ Bengaluru

AFTER hordes of BJP and Congress leaders joined JDS as they were denied tickets, the party is hoping that they will improve their tally of seats, giving them an advantage in case of a fractured mandate.

The JDS has fielded 28 turncoats, of whom nine are in Kalyana Karnataka region, five in Mumbai-Karnataka, three each in Old Mysuru Region, Central Karnataka and Malnad regions and Uttara Kannada district, and one each in Bengaluru city and Dakshina Kannada.

First to announce list

JDS was first to announce its list of candidates. Later, they made some last-minute changes to accommodate party hoppers

Party hopes to increase its tally and vote share

Most of the turncoats are from North Karnataka

Based on their calculations, the party leaders firmly believe that at least 17 of the 28 candidates have a strong chance of winning, while eight have 50 per cent chance and three are unlikely to make it to Vidhana Soudha.

A senior JDS leader expressed confidence that leaders like former minister AB Malaka Reddy (Yadgir), Ayanur Manjunath (Shivamogga city), Somanagouda Patil (Basavana Bagevadi), Doddappagouda Shivalingappagouda (Jevargi), Gurulingappa Gouda (Shahapur), Suryakanth Nagamarapalli (Bidar), Suraj Soni Naik (Kumta), Manohar Tahsildar (Hangal), MP Kumaraswamy (Mudigeri), and A Manju (Arkalgud) have chances of winning.

"Another winnable candidate is YSV Datta, who had joined Congress and returned to JDS. As his constituency Kadur falls under the Hassan Lok Sabha seat, represented by Prajwal Revanna, former minister HD Revanna and the MP himself will ensure his victory. They have been instrumental in bringing him back to the party," the leader said, predicting a close contest in Arasikere between NR Santhosh and Shivalinge Gowda, who had resigned as JDS MLA to contest on a Congress ticket.

However, party leaders see no chances in Varuna, where Bharathi Shankar, who was earlier with the BJP, will fight against former CM Siddaramaiah and Housing Minister V Somanna. "All the candidates were chosen after considering the winnability factor. Most of them are from the North Karnataka region, where we were trying to strengthen our base," another leader said.

JDS leaders are also expecting 'outside' help to cross at least 50 seats which will help them negotiate.

Will JDS end six decades of 'family rule' in Hanur?

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

FOR over 60 years now, two families have had a grip on Hanur constituency in Chamarajanagar district. Power has remained with these two families, at times alternating between them, depending on the voters' mood.

Former minister Raju Gowda's family has traditionally been with the Congress, while H Nagappa's family first aligned with the Janata Party, and later with the Bharatiya Janata Party. The hilly constituency, rich in natural resources, is dominated by Lingayats, Dalits, Kurubas, Gounders, tribals, Vokkaligas and other smaller communities.

The two rival families have seen their ups and downs in the past 60 years. G Venkate Gowda was elected Congress MLA from 1957 to 1962, G Raju Gowda from the same family won in 1978, 1985, 1989 and 1999, and his son Narendra has won thrice since 2008. H Nagappa won in 1967 and 1984, and after he was killed by forest brigand Veerappan, his wife Parimala won the election in 2004.

Voters have consistently reposed faith in the arch-rivals, and even a generational change has not impacted the voting pattern much. This election too, the younger generation is preparing for a titanic contest. The Congress and BJP, that have made winnability the benchmark to field candidates, have stuck to the two families. Congress candidate R Narendra and BJP's Preetham Nagappa have locked horns earlier too, and are depending on family legacy and traditional supporters to see them through. The JDS has once again fielded MR Manjunath, a Kuruba, and for the first time, there appears to be a tough triangular contest.

Congress workers are sweating it out under the scorching sun, listing out the Bhagyas given by former CM Siddaramaiah and distributing Congress guarantee cards to every household. While Preetham Nagappa is not too familiar among the voters, he secured 56,931 votes in the last election, and has been campaigning hard for the past couple of months.

Manjunath is playing up underdevelopment, and impressed people with his vision for Hanur.

The JDS is working on social engineering and realignment of castes, reaching out to Dalits, Padayachi Gounders, and smaller backward communities that have remained with the Congress for decades. If the Congress has managed to consolidate Vokkaliga, Dalit and backward communities, the BJP is backed by Lingayat, Bedagamapana and others. But with Manjunath emerging a strong contestant, both parties are now compelled to woo other communities.

Bengaluru: Kannada star Shivarajkumar's wife Geetha Shivarajkumar joined Congress on Friday. The couple are likely to campaign for Geetha's younger brother and Sorab Congress candidate Madhu Bangarappa, in Shivamogga district from Saturday. Earlier, sandalwood star Kiccha Sudeep had campaigned for BJP candidates. It will be a huge boost for Congress in Malnad region of Shivamogga as Shivarajkumar enjoys a massive fan following there. "I am happy that she joined Congress. We are going to campaign for Madhu and also his uncle Bhimanna Naik in Sirsi," Shivarajkumar told reporters. Madhu will take on his elder brother and incumbent BJP MLA Kumar Bangarappa. Geetha is the daughter of former chief minister late S Bangarappa and daughter-in-law of Kannada matinee idol Dr Rajkumar. ENS

Candidates throng places of worship to woo voters

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

WITH hardly 11 days left for polling, candidates and their supporters in the city have started to flock to places where they are sure to have ready-made gathering of people, like near temples, mosques and churches. On Friday, many candidates from all the three parties wooed voters near mosques. On Sunday, candidates are likely to camp with their supporters near churches.

In Hebbal, Congress leader Byrathi Suresh's son Sanjay S interacted with people at Bilal Masjid in Munireddy Palya, JC Nagar ward, handing out pamplets to those leaving the mosque after prayers. His father's close aide, Abdul Wajid, campaigned at Mecca Masjid in Bhuvaneshwari Nagar.

Supporters of JDS candidate Mohid Altaf campaigned at other mosques in Hebbal.

Similarly, Chikpete BJP MLA Uday Garudachar offered prayers at Mavalli Masjid near Lal Bagh Road as part of his election campaign.

BJP MLA Uday Garudachar at Bilal Masjid in Siddapura on Friday

"Meeting the public at religious places and seeking their votes is not a crime. The community brothers are very much an integral part from my childhood days and I share a strong bond with them," said Garudachar.

Meanwhile, JDS supporters in Hebbal reportedly roped in children for election campaign work. Children were seen distributing JDS candidate Mohid Altaf's hand bills, and asking those leaving Mecca Masjid at Bhuvaneshwari Nagar to vote for 'Altaf Bhai'.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

29th April : If you think that it's a coincidence that Saturday - Saturn's Day - comes before Sunday - Sun's Day - then think again. In the ancient world Saturn was known as the star of the Sun, and the fact that the one was so faint and the other so bright suggested that between them they linked all the possibilities open to humanity.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
A large shot of common sense is always just what is required to get you on the straight and narrow. That is why your current planets are perfect for practical tasks, and for putting a little much-needed effort into social and romantic relationships.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
A high proportion of Taureans will be working hard, even putting in some overtime. Those of you planning to put your feet up should keep active, for this is nothing if not a day to accomplish practical tasks. You'll be much happier if you feel that you have actually achieved something worthwhile.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The crucial planetary patterns today are civilised and enlightened, which is rather splendid considering that you are coming up with some fascinating ideas. Everything looks poised for sound, practical decisions and thoroughly sensible conversations!

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You need to sit down and talk to people at home, if only to get something off your chest. The key to a successful future is consultation and co-operation, so don't go off on a Cancerian tangent. You may do best to stick to familiar paths, and hone the solutions you've applied already.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
There will be a number of occasions when you must bite your lip if you are to avoid offending someone quite needlessly. Whatever your reasons or motives, you must remember that other people don't necessarily see the world in the same way as you, and you need to respect their points of view.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You may be concerned by personal plans, but all new developments in your chart hinge on professionalism and high finance. It's probable that business and pleasure will begin to merge, perhaps because a loved one shows you the way to fulfil a worldly ambition.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
The next few weeks are likely to be crucial, and quite probably decisive in shaping your personal affairs over the next twelve months. Today's helpful alignments are ideal for rational thought and reasonable decisions, and favourable for family initiatives.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
By some strange celestial quirk, your current planets hold a supremely Scorpionic phase of life; intense, secretive and mystical. Today, though, brings an entirely contradictory pattern of light-hearted conversation. Can you handle it? Yes, but only if you take partners' promises with a touch of healthy scepticism.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
If life is like a card game then I must tell you that your fellow players hold most of the trumps. Therefore, in love, at work, at home and at play, you must think very carefully before making your move. There's no reason why you can't win: it's all in the timing.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
A colleague is about to come to your aid, but what takes place over the next few days may not be public knowledge until next week or even the coming month. Whatever your personal situation, this is a day to stay busy and do what you're best at - or risk boredom.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
In many ways you are happy for current conditions to remain as they are, at least for a little while longer. What is decided now could have very far-reaching and practical consequences, probably way beyond your wildest dreams. It now looks as if partners will have to agree and admit that you were right all along!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Intimate developments focus on your personal relationships. You must pay special attention to close emotional connections with particular reference to relations and anyone else who is lucky enough to live with you! They need to feel that you're paying them the attention they deserve.

362 evacuees, including two infants, touch down at KIA from war-hit Sudan

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

Some of the evacuees, who landed at the Kempegowda International Airport, will be shifted to Rajiv Gandhi Institute of Health Sciences for a six-day quarantine, on Friday | S LALITHA

IT was a mighty sigh of relief for 362 flyers on board the Saudi Airlines FE 3624 when it touched down at the Kempegowda International Airport around 4.30 pm on Friday. Having lived in fear for their lives in Sudan, they had managed to reach Jeddah on a ship or special Indian Air Force flight before getting on board the repatriation flight to Bengaluru. The passengers included two infants, 12 children and 107 women.

Of the 362 flyers, 114 were from Karnataka. A majority of them were from Shivamogga (50), while others were from Mysuru (45), Bengaluru (9), Kalaburagi (4) and two each from Udupi and Ramanagara and one each from Hassan and Davanagere.

The 45-year-old Nithin Manoj Amanni from Mangaluru was glad that he made it alive from Khartoum Bahari. He worked as a production manager at Tiga Plastic Factory for the last 22 years. He had to travel nearly 40 hours, covering the distance by road and flight.

"My factory was shut down suddenly. Thankfully, my family left for Mangaluru last year. I was without water and power in my house for four days. My car was stolen. Bullets came darting into my house. One night, I managed to walk to my friend's house and seven families mobilised money to hire a bus to Port Sudan. At many places, fighters of the two factions stopped us, but somehow we managed to reach the port. The Indian Embassy offered us food and other necessities. An armed force flight flew 130 of us to Jeddah and in half-an-hour, we got this flight. Some of my colleagues had to take a ship from the port to Jeddah which took nearly 12 hours." Manoj later boarded a flight to Mangaluru.

Muhammed Irshad Maniyar, his wife Gulnar and their children – four-year-old Safwan and eight-year-old Hanna -- were stuck inside their house for over a week. He and two of his colleagues from Bengaluru's Finonyx Software Systems were in Sudan to provide IT support to Balad Bank in Khartoum. "My family was sitting inside the house unable to step out for 10 days. When my kids kept asking about the blasts, I told them Diwali was being celebrated outside. It was a horrible experience," Maniyar said.

Among the passengers evacuated, 34 were from Tamil Nadu, 33 from Andhra Pradesh, 32 from Kerala, 22 from Telangana, 30 from Maharashtra, four from Bihar and rest from other states.

The state government had arranged five KSRTC buses to ferry the evacuees to their hometowns.

Manoj Rajan, Commissioner Disaster Management and Nodal Officer from Karnataka, said that 40 flyers from other states had not carried the mandatory yellow fever vaccination certificate.

"They have all been sent to a six-day quarantine at Rajiv Gandhi Institute of Health Sciences. Some of them have either lost the certificates or left them behind. The certificates are being tracked using passports and other documents and they will be allowed to leave as soon as we get the certificates. The others have to complete the quarantine period," he added.

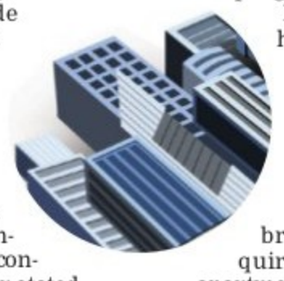
Sound academics, now a must to rent a flat in city

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A strange requirement for those looking for houses on rent in the city has gained momentum on social media.

The requirement by this landlord is only those scoring 90 per cent and above marks in exams will be given accommodation.

A tweet by Shubh(@kadaipaneeeer) reads, "Marks don't decide your future, but they definitely decide whether you get a flat in Bengaluru or not."



He told The New Indian Express that his cousin, who was shifting from Canada to Bengaluru for work, was looking for an apartment. The screenshots of the Whatsapp conversations with a broker stated that the house owner demanded photo copies of their Aadhaar and PAN cards, Twitter/LinkedIn profile, company joining certificate along with academic certificates and later rejected his cousin's profile because he scored below 90 per cent marks in Class 12 examination.

The post gained a million views in less than 24 hours with many reactions from netizens. @chiragkap replied saying, "Real. My landlord strictly told me ki agar CGPA 8.5 se neeche gaya toh samaan pack kar lena."

For bachelors, renting an apartment in Bengaluru is a "mission impossible", Chirag told TNIE. He had to show his CV and LinkedIn profile to the owner to convince him. He is a final-year B Com student residing in Peenya.

Another user tweeted, "Padhai likhai karo, tabhi ghar bana paoge". Papa was right".

People are often seen holding placards in public places looking for a roommate to fund high security deposits or sharing bizarre requirements of house owners.

Lakshmi Narayan, a broker, said, "The requirement of renting an apartment to a person with 90 per cent and above marks in academics is unfair." According to him, demanding academic certificates is a new requirement in the city.

Landlords usually refrain from renting their houses to bachelors to avoid complaints of playing loud music or late night parties from their neighbours, Narayan said.

The general complaint is that bachelors do not maintain the house well and often create nuisance.

'Set up 3 more spl courts to try NIA cases'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

TAKING note of inordinate delay in trial as the sole National Investigating Agency special court to try cases under the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act is overburdened, the Karnataka High Court has recommended to the state government to establish three special courts -- in Mysuru, Belagavi and Kalaburagi divisions -- within six months.

A division bench of Justice B Veerappa and Justice T Venkatesh Naik passed the order while dismissing the appeals filed by 35 accused against the rejection of their bail pleas by the special court, Bengaluru, in relation to the 2022 Hubballi communal riots. The court, however, directed the special court to dispose of the main matter expeditiously.

Meanwhile, the counsel of the accused drew attention to the delay in trial of such cases as there is only one court for the entire state and it is overburdened resulting in injustice to innocent persons.

The court said the data clearly shows that NIA cases, which are more than eight to nine years old, are pending. The judiciary is the repository of public faith and the last hope of the people. After every knock at all the doors fail people approach the judiciary as the last resort. It is high time for the state government to fulfil the scope and object of the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act and ensure speedy trial and disposal by establishing three more special courts for the trial of NIA cases in other revenue divisions of Karnataka, the court said.

The court further said if the proposed special courts are not established, one special court for the entire state will lead to inordinate delay in the trial and disposal of NIA cases, which is against the constitutional mandate as contemplated under Articles 14 and 21 of the constitution.

Give 40 per cent government only 40 seats, says ex-AICC president

BJP loots money, fails to fulfil promises, says Rahul

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Kalaburagi

Hitting out at Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai for ridiculing Congress' pre-poll guarantees by saying that those are "impossible to implement", former AICC president Rahul Gandhi on Friday said that since BJP has failed to implement even 20 per cent of their promises made in the 2018 manifesto, they cannot imagine how Congress will do it.

Addressing an election campaign in Jewargi town for Congress candidate Dr Ajay Singh, Rahul said, "BJP knows how to loot people's money and misuse government funds. Across the country, the BJP government has become infamous for its 40 per cent commission. How can they implement promises."

Since they are interested in earning "40 per cent commission", they should only be given 40 seats, he said, adding that Congress should get at least 150 MLAs. If the number is less than that, "BJP can purchase Congress MLAs", he feared.

Rahul explained the pre-poll promises including free travel for women in government buses. Within a few days of assuming power, he said, the government will issue an order regarding free bus rides for women, and the Cabinet will approves the guarantees in its first meeting. Singh said that Rahul's visit to Jewargi has bolstered the confidence of Congress workers and the people. Congress Afzalpur candidate MY Patil, BR Patil of Aland, Allamaprabhu Patil of Gulbarga-Dakshina, Kaneez Fatima of Gulbarga-Uttar, Revu Naik Belamagi of Gulbarga-Rural, Dr Sharanprakash Patil of Sedam, and Subhash Rathod of Chinchoil were present.

'Who will pay for the guarantees?'

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

AFTER former AICC president Rahul Gandhi announced his party's fifth pre-poll guarantee of free bus passes for women, experts said that this guarantee was introduced in Tamil Nadu, which has helped women improve their savings.

Recently, Rahul had said, "If Congress comes to power, we will fulfill all our four guarantees in the first cabinet meeting."

Netizens have questioned the freebies promised ahead of the elections. Manipal Global Education Services chairman and former Infosys director Mohandas Pai took to social media and asked, "Who is going to pay for this? Is Congress going to pay for it from their coffers or is Rahul Gandhi going to pay?"

Countering BJP, another social media user said, "Where will the money for the BJP come from for Mann ki Baat of Prime Minister?"

Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah, who as finance minister holds the record of presenting the highest number of budgets, said, "Will we make a guarantee without considering the cost?" He explained that for the first four guarantees they would spend about Rs 55,000-Rs 56,000 crore.

Responding to the free bus travel promise, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said, "The free bus pass for women has already been announced in our budget and necessary provisions have been made. Congress is running out of ideas. Rahul Gandhi as usual is ignorant of the facts. People will not believe the Congress guarantees."

MORE YOU SCORN MODI, MORE LOTUS WILL BLOOM: SHAH TO CONG

MALLIKARJUN HIREMATH, RAGHOTTAM KOPPAR & KIRAN BALANNANAVAR
@ Annigeri/Lakshmeshwar/Hanagal

TO capture a majority of seats in undivided Dharwad district that will help cross the magic mark in the May 10 Assembly elections, BJP's master strategist and Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Friday went on a whirlwind tour of the district, addressing rallies at Annigeri (Dharwad), Laksmeshwar (Gadag) and Akki Alur (Haveri) towns.

At all the rallies, he attacked Congress and its chief Mallikarjun Kharge for his barb, comparing PM Narendra Modi to a "venomous snake".

Shah told the people that they are not vowting to elect a CM or ministers, but for the future of the state and to strengthen the hands of Modi, who has been taking bold decisions like banning the PFI to improve internal security. But Congress had given PFI activists a free run, he alleged.

Stating that Kharge's remark has hurt people, Shah said, "Congress is facing a dearth of issues. Modi, who is adored worldwide and is trusted by people of India, is repeatedly attacked by Congress with derogatory remarks. Sometimes he is called a poisonous snake, and sometimes

Union Home Minister Amit Shah addresses a gathering during the campaign for party candidates in Hanagal on Friday

Maut Ka Saudagar and Neechli Jaat. But Karnataka people will give a befitting reply to Congress in the elections. The more they scorn Modiji, the more lotus will bloom."

Trying to strike a chord with the Lingayat community that is in majority in the region, he recalled how Congress had insulted Lingayat leaders. Now, Rahul Gandhi and other Lingayat leaders in Congress are after Lingayat votes forgetting what ill they did to them, he charged. Campaigning for minister Shanakr Patil Munenakoppa at Annigeri in Navalgund segment, he strongly defended the Bommai government's decision to scrap the Muslim quota and said the party will never allow reservation on the basis of religion.

"As leaders of Congress and other parties are promising to bring back Muslim quota, the people want to know from whom they would snatch the reservation to give to Muslims? People are tired of appeasement politics and have distanced themselves from such parties," he said.

Shan said in Akki Alur of Hangal constituency that JDS is the B-team of Congress and voting for the regional party means voting for Congress. "After getting elected, JDS MLAs will sit on the lap of Congress," he mocked. Ridiculing the guarantees being promised by Congress, he said, "Congress is guarantee for lying, guarantee for corruption and guarantee for casteism. But BJP gives the guarantee that Congress will not come to power."

CM: Modi a Neelkanth, can tame snakes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Kalaburagi

"BY calling Prime Minister Narendra Modi a venomous snake, AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge has shown his mindset. It also reveals Congress leaders' fear of Modi's campaigning in the state," said CM Basavaraj Bommai at Sedam on Friday.

Addressing an election rally of BJP candidate Rajkumar Patil Telkur, he said that in fact, Modi is the 'Neelakanth', who wears snakes on his neck. "He knows how to tame snakes and how to be humble before people of the country. This 'Neelakanth' has successfully tackled terrorism, put in efforts to eradicate poverty and taken measures for the welfare of farmers," he said.

On the statements of KPCC president DK Shivakumar and AICC general secretary, Karnataka in-charge, Randeep Singh Surjewala that Lingayats and Vokkaligas are not beggars to demand reservation, Bommai wanted to know whether the two meant SC/STs and backward communities are beggars. "Their statements show that Congress leaders will treat people like beggars," he said.

Earlier, he and film star Shruti took part in a roadshow. Shruti requested the people not to bring an unstable government in the state and to give a clear mandate to BJP to allow it to implement pro-people schemes.

Brisk preparations ahead of PM's visit to Mysuru tomorrow

Mysuru: Brisk preparations are being made ahead of PM Narendra Modi's visit to Mysuru on Sunday as he will take part in a 4-km-long roadshow, which is expected to see over 80,000 people. BJP MLA and ex-minister SA Ramadas said Modi will go on the route taken by the Jumbo Savari during Dasara procession. "Seating arrangements have been made for senior citizens, while special focus will be made to showcase Mysuru tradition and products that have the Mysuru GI tag during the roadshow, where Modi will seek votes for five BJP candidates," he said. Modi will reach Oval Grounds around 5 pm and head to Gunhouse Circle in a closed vehicle. "Later, he will board an open vehicle and will greet thousands of party workers and people gathered for the roadshow. The stretch will be completely barricaded for safety reasons," he added. He said over 20 folk troupes will take part, while a traditional welcome will be accorded to Modi by playing nadaswara. The roadshow that will begin at Gunhouse Circle and conclude at Millennium Circle. Modi will seek votes for BJP candidates Srivatsa (KR constituency), Nagendra (Chamaraja), Sandesh Swamy (Narasimharaja), Kavish Gowda (Chamundeshwari) and V Somanna (Varuna).

Cong's attack will give Modi more votes: CM

Hubballi: Whenever Congress leaders have abused Prime Minister Narendra Modi, he has received more support and votes, said Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Friday, a day after AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge's "poisonous snake" remark. Under relentless attack from Congress, Modi succeeded in becoming Gujarat chief minister thrice and the prime minister, he said. "Likening Modi with a poisonous snake has hurt the sentiments of the people and they will teach Congress a befitting lesson," Bommai said. "I am more pained by the language used by the party's senior leaders who have been in public life for decades. In the fag end of their political career, they should not be behaving like this," he said. Frustrated after losing their traditional support base among the Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe communities, they are attacking Modi, he said.

Audio clip: FIR against Somanna, 2 others

Mysuru: Days after a purported audio clip of Housing Minister V Somanna offering cash to a JDS candidate Aluru Mallu (Mallikarjunaswamy) to withdraw his nomination went viral, Chamarajanagar town police have registered an FIR under sections 171E, 171F against Somanna, Nataraju and Sudeep based on a complaint by Dr BR Jayanna, flying squad magistrate team-2, on the direction of polling officers.

Twin-engine govt will benefit state, nation: Min

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Shivamogga

UNION Minister of State for Agriculture and Farmers' Welfare Shobha Karandlaje on Friday said that a double-engine government is essential for the overall development of both state and the nation, adding that the Centre-sponsored schemes are not being implemented in non-BJP-ruled states.

Talking to reporters here on Friday, Shobha said this time around, the elections are being fought on the basis of development. In order to complete pending development work taken up by the present BJP dispensation, there is need to reinstate the same government.

Accordingly, she felt that this time, the BJP in the state must come to power on its own with a full majority.

"When the Kisan Samman Yojana was implemented by the BJP government at the Centre, the then JDS-Congress coalition government sent only 17 names of farmers for the scheme. But, when the B S Yediyurappa government took over, the same scheme reached out to 54 lakh farmers in the state," she said.

The priority of our government is to lay the foundation stone for development work as well as the inauguration of new work. The government works at such a pace that in the last nine years, it has made efficient use of technology to complete the development works in time, she said.

Reddy starts digi campaign to boost Aruna's chances

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR @ Ballari

KALYANA Rajya Pragathi Paksha founder and former minister Gali Janardhana Reddy has taken the digital route to connect with his voters, after he was asked by court not to enter Ballari district. This year, Reddy's wife Aruna Laxmi is contesting assembly elections from Ballari city.

To make up for Janardhana Reddy's absence, the KRPP has come up with the idea to connect digitally. The party is using social media actively and vehicles with digital displays of Reddy's speeches are making the rounds in Ballari.

As many as 30 display vehicles are roaming in the city, and at many sites, crowds gather to listen to Reddy's speeches. The videos have a clip of Reddy explaining his party's manifesto and the development work he has done in Ballari when he was minister.

Aruna Laxmi, KRPP MLA candidate, said that as minister, Reddy carried out a number of works and is the biggest strength of the KRPP. "As per the SC order, Janardhana Reddy is restricted from entering Ballari city. But his development work can be seen here, and 90 per cent of the work taken up here was started by him," she said.

"As a woman, it's hard to conduct a public rally without my husband, but we should respect the SC order. We keep updating our party routine on social media. Wherever I go in Ballari and meet people, they talk about works done by my husband. I hope I will win, thanks to Reddy's hard work. The voters are eager for Reedy's victory, especially after he promised housing and a new airport," she said.

Archrivals faceoff in Athani as Savadi faces BJP ire

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

IN Athani, an interesting contest is on the cards between two arch rivals – sitting BJP MLA Mahesh Kumathalli and former deputy chief minister Laxman Savadi, who is contesting as a Congress candidate after switching over from BJP recently.

Gokak BJP MLA Ramesh Jarkiholi is spearheading the campaign for Kumathalli, while Savadi, who has won thrice from the same constituency as a BJP candidate, is working hard to reclaim the seat.

Savadi's switch to Congress from BJP after he was denied a ticket has made the saffron party go hammer and tongs at him, while former chief minister BS Yediyurappa too has vowed to defeat him. To ensure Kumathalli's victory, Jarkiholi has been camping here for the last few months. Kumathalli, a popular leader in Athani, also enjoys the support of sections of both BJP and Congress.

In 2013, Savadi defeated Kumathalli by 24,000 votes, but lost the seat to the same rival by a narrow margin in the 2018 polls. After winning, Kumathalli defected to BJP, joining a team of 17 Congress and JDS MLAs who toppled the HD Kumaraswamy-led coalition government to bring BJP to power.

He won the bypoll next year.

Among the 2.20 lakh voters in the constituency, about a lakh are Lingayats, while 40,000 are Marathas. The other major sections are 30,000 SCs and 28,000 Muslims. With Lingayats being the key voters, most of the candidates in fray in Athani have been Lingayats for many decades now. Between Savadi and Kumathalli, both of whom also hail from this dominant community, it remains to be seen who eventually will get their support. The contest is now evenly poised.

Black magic, voodoo dolls and other dark games stain the pollscape

KARTHIK K K @ Mysuru

TANTRIK rituals, voodoo dolls, lemons and pumpkins... As poll campaigning peaks across the state, and star campaigners make a beeline for poll-bound Karnataka, candidates in the fray are silently resorting to superstition and black magic to bide over this crucial period.

From following strange customs before filing their nominations, to reaching out to black magicians, no candidate wants to break tradition or misread the stars that apparently influence the outcome of their action. What's more ironical is the fact that senior leaders who have won elections on the trot are also blindly following these customs and even resorting to black magic.

An officer deputed at Mysuru City Corporation on poll duty revealed that most of the candidates who came with nomination papers tried to hand them in, pointing in the north direction. When an independent candidate was putting a black ink pen to paper to sign, his followers suggested that he sign in blue ink, for black is considered unlucky.

There's more. An astrologer, a native of Kollegal who runs an astrology store in Kuvempunagar in Mysuru, revealed that there are demands for voodoo dolls this time. "I suggested to a candidate from Shivamogga to contact my guru in Kollegal, who will get him the doll. It will help him gain an upper hand in the election," the astrologer said.

Meanwhile, in rural pockets, especially in Chamarajanagar and Mandya districts, sliced lemons or pumpkins thrown in front of rival candidates' houses and offices have become a common sight. It is believed that they can carry ill-will, and ensure the loss of their opponents. Several candidates also attempt black magic on the followers of rival leaders, to scare them and restrain them from campaigning. The new trend is prediction games, with a dog in Mandya predicting who will be the next CM. Gopi of Ashoknagar, whose dog Bhairava is known for making accurate predictions, showed him photographs of CM Basavaraj Bommai, former CM HD Kumaraswamy and Congress leader DK Shivakumar. The dog picked up Kumaraswamy's photo, declaring him as future CM, and again raising the spectre of a hung assembly.

NIA suspects conspiracy in train arson case

Agency gets custody of Saifi for seven days

TOBY ANTONY @ Kochi

THE National Investigation Agency (NIA) probing the arson attack on the Alappuzha-Kannur Executive Express near Elathur in Kozhikode suspects a conspiracy involving an unknown person in the incident.

In its first information report (FIR), the probe agency has arraigned Shahrukh Saifi (27), a native of New Delhi, and others as accused.

"The information available in respect of the case indicates that the arrested person carried out arson by using inflammable substances/liquid on the passengers in the moving train with the intention of creating terror in the minds of the public at large and thereby committed a terrorist act in conspiracy with unknown others," stated the FIR re-registered by the NIA on April 17.

Meanwhile, the NIA Court in Kochi on Friday granted the custody of Saifi to NIA for seven days. The offences charged in NIA's FIR are IPC Sections 302 (murder), 307 (the act that caused death), 326A (voluntarily causing grievous hurt using acid), 436 (mischief by fire or explosive substance) and 438 (punishment for mischief committed by fire or explosives) and Unlawful Activities Prevention Act (UAPA) Section 16 (terrorist act).

The Kerala police, which probed the case initially, had claimed that Saifi was highly radicalised and watched extremist videos online. The investigation team also suspected that Saifi received support from some persons to carry out the attack. The agencies are investigating whether Saifi carried out the attack under the directive of any handlers. His online footprints are being checked to confirm it.

It was on April 2 that Saifi boarded the D1 coach of Alappuzha-Kannur Executive Express. When the train crossed Elathur station and reached the Korappuzha bridge, he sprayed petrol on the passengers and set fire. Out of fear, passengers attempted to escape from the coach, and three persons, including a child, jumped off the moving train resulting in their death. As many as nine persons were injured in the incident.

Saifi who managed to escape after the crime was later arrested from Maharashtra.

Quack vet operates on dog, faces complaint

PRAVEEN KUMAR @ Bengaluru:

A senior official of the Karnataka Veterinary Council filed a criminal complaint with Bydarahalli police station against a quack who posed as a registered veterinary practitioner and performed surgery on a dog.

The suspect, HC Prakash, is a Group C employee, whose role is to ensure that all animals are properly tested for infections and contagious diseases, and to inspect records of livestock dealers. Since he is not a qualified vet, he is not supposed to perform a surgery on any animal. He also worked earlier in the veterinary clinic in Herohalli, near Sunkadakatte.

Apart from filing a criminal complaint, Council official Dr T Tippeswamy wrote to the Department of Animal Husbandry to initiate action against Prakash. "The incident came to light following a complaint from a dog parent. At the time of surgery, he was transferred to a different clinic. However, he has performed surgery earlier at Herohalli veterinary clinic, which is gross violation of authority. The animal husbandry department will conduct an inquiry against him. The dog, on which the surgery was performed, is recovering," Tippeswamy said.

"People taking pets to the vet must ask for registration certificates if they are not displayed in clinics. We don't know exactly when the operation was performed and what complications the animal developed after the surgery. Expert opinions are being sought," said an investigation officer.

Seers: Same-sex marriage goes against 'Indian culture'

ENS @ Mangaluru

SEERS of various mutts in Mangaluru have condemned the Supreme Court's move to favour legalising of same-sex marriage and warned that they will protest against it as it is against 'Indian culture'.

Addressing a press conference at the Vishwa Hindu Parishad premises, Rajashekharananda Swamiji of Vajradehi Mutt said if the Supreme Court allows same-sex marriage, seers will protest against it. "Marriage is sacred in India and it has played a vital role in protecting families. Only marriages between a man and a woman are accepted in India. Marriage is about having children and continuing the family lineage. It instills good values among children and makes them good citizens, but in same-sex marriages, such values will lose their importance," he said.

He further said that adoption, divorce and rightful heir rules will change and they will call themselves sexual minorities and demand reservation. "It will further create endless issues in our society. These groups are trying to destroy the Indian culture by imposing Western culture into our roots. Same-sex marriage is a threat to Indian culture and should not be legalised. We will challenge it in court if it is legalised," he added.

Probe plea against EPS' election affidavit: Court

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Salem

SALEM Judicial Magistrate Court No.1 has directed the CCB to investigate a petition against AIADMK general secretary Edappadi K Palaniswami that he furnished false information in his affidavit and nomination papers filed for the 2021 Assembly polls.

The petitioner, P Milany of Sanjay Gandhi First Street in Palanichettipatti in Theni, is the former district youth wing secretary of DMK. On February 26, he filed a petition before the court stating that Palaniswami had furnished false information regarding his immovable property, annual income, loans and liabilities.

Hearing the petition, on April 26, Magistrate G Kalaivani directed Salem CCB police to conduct a detailed investigation. "In the considered opinion of this court, the case requires further deliberation by way of a police investigation in order to bring the entire truth and best evidence with regard to the facts alleged in the complaint," the judge said.

"As this case pertains to much public interest, it is a preliminary duty of the investigation agency to take the matter for effective investigation and bring the truth. Further, the complainant is an ordinary public welfare citizen, so it is difficult for him to prosecute the case against a powerful politician having served as CM of Tamil Nadu," the order reads. The court directed the SHO of CCB to file a report on or before May 26. K Nilavazhagan, Assistant Commissioner of the CCB, said they are yet to receive the copy of the order.

GROSS NPAs DOWN, BANKS MUST FOCUS ON RETAIL LOANS AND WRITE-OFFS

Six years after the spine-busting twin balance sheets clean-up exercise began, bad loans of Indian banks seem to be nearing a closure. From a low of 2.4% in FY11, gross NPAs surged to a peak of 11.5% by FY18 and are now expected to decline to sub-5% and sub-4% in FY23 and FY24, respectively. While Crisil Ratings pegged gross NPAs at 3.8% in FY24, a joint study by Assocham and Crisil expects them to touch a decadal low of below 4% this fiscal. The steady decline is partly due to effective enforcement and supervision of the banking regulator and strengthened risk management and underwriting measures. The biggest contribution came from corporate loans, whose gross NPAs will likely print below 2% from a peak of 16% in FY18.

Worryingly, bad loans of MSMEs, which got scalped during demonetisation, the GST rollout and the pandemic, are set to rise to 10–11% by March 2024 from about 9.3% as of March 2022. According to Crisil, relief measures helped contain asset quality deterioration last fiscal; MSMEs have undergone aggressive restructuring at about 6% compared with 2% for the overall banking sector. Helpfully, the retail segment's asset quality remained steady, with gross NPAs expected to be range bound at 1.8–2%. Of the total outstanding loans, retail accounts for about 26%, half of which includes home loans, followed by vehicle loans, unsecured credit cards and personal loans. Signs of stress have just begun, thanks to the twin evils of higher interest rates and inflation, and if it persists, lenders' and households' string of worry beads will only get thicker.

While declining gross NPAs is heartening, the other half of the story comprising write-offs and recoveries is not that heartwarming. Total write-offs stood at about ₹8.8 lakh crore during FY17–FY21, similar to FY21's gross NPAs at ₹8.41 lakh crore. Granular data indicates a moderate decline in annual write-offs from ₹2.2 lakh crore in FY20 to ₹1.91 lakh crore in FY21. Likewise, the fresh addition of bad loans, too, is reducing and stood at ₹4.8 lakh crore in FY21. But loan recoveries comprised a paltry ₹1.59 lakh crore, down from ₹2.23 lakh crore in FY20 and ₹2.38 lakh crore in FY19. Banks and the regulator must now direct efforts towards higher recoveries and lower write-offs.

CORRUPTION CHARGES CAN DENT PINARAYI'S IMAGE

The growing list of corruption allegations should be a matter of concern for the Pinarayi Vijayan government and the CPM-led LDF in Kerala. The latest is the accusation of irregularities in implementing the AI-powered traffic monitoring system. This project was supposed to be a feather in the cap of the ruling front. Opposition parties have alleged corruption and violations in awarding contracts to procure and install equipment. There can't be smoke without fire, and the suspicions are not without basis. While the state PSU Keltron was tasked with implementing the ₹232-crore project, it awarded the contract to a Bengaluru-based company that, apparently, lacked the required expertise. The company gave sub-contracts to Kerala-based firms with alleged links to the CPM-run Uralungal Labour Contract Co-operative Society. These sub-contracts and deals said to have escalated the cost by three times.

No doubt, the matter requires a thorough investigation. But significantly, it is another blow to the government's sagging image. While this is the first serious charge during Pinarayi Vijayan's second consecutive term, a series of allegations punctuated his first term. In the sensational gold smuggling scam, his former principal secretary M Sivasankar has been named an accused, and his additional private secretary C M Raveendran is under the scanner. In the Life Mission housing project kickback case, the allegation is serious—a violation of the Foreign Contribution Regulation Act. While Sivasankar was arrested, Raveendran was questioned. Before that, a surprise deal to allow American firm Sprinklr to collect health data of Keralites under Covid quarantine turned controversial, and gold scam accused Swapna Suresh later named the CM's daughter Veena Vijayan as the mastermind. The government is also facing allegations of misuse of the Chief Minister's Distress Relief Fund.

All charges are serious, and the fact is, the government hasn't been able to shake off any. At this rate, Pinarayi Vijayan, who likes to project a pro-development image and is striving to build a lasting legacy, could end up with the dubious distinction of having headed the most tainted regime in Kerala's political history. He has three years to fix that, and the work must start now. First, come clean on the traffic project. Next, keep a close watch on the activities, dealings, and decisions of ministers and officials. Follow transparent and fair processes for striking deals and implementing public projects. To restore his image, he must ensure that his hands are indeed clean.

QUICK TAKE

THE MENTAL WAR TRIGGER

India's defence establishment currently focuses on psychology's influence on warfare in hi-tech and extreme environments. One aspect that must gain attention is a developing warfare domain—cognitive warfare. It's a strategy to alter how a target population thinks and acts in that altered state. It is a weapon in an external entity's hands to sow mass distrust in a population and destabilise the targeted society and institutions. Examples are the global chaos over the Covid outbreak in 2019 and online sleeper-terrorist recruitment through radical ideologies. The actual threat of cognitive warfare lies at the expanding intersection of technology, neuroscience and psychology.

When Atiq launched himself as a criminal in his teens, the system didn't react. He quickly outgrew the system, and eventually, he became the system

ATIQ'S LIFE AND DEATH: SAGA OF SYSTEM'S FAILURES

BALBIR PUNJ

Former Member of Parliament and a columnist

SOUMYADIP SINHA

The recent gunning down of gangster-turned-politician Atiq Ahmed and his brother Ashraf in police custody by three assailants, and the resulting myriad reactions of various sections of society have highlighted the multiple fault lines running through the Indian public life.

The sordid murder script, which played live on Indian TV channels, was the culmination of an over four-decade-long crime-infested life. It encapsulated the distorted nature of Indian political discourse, the failure of its justice dispensation system, the collapse of Uttar Pradesh's law and order, and the imperfections of India's electoral process.

Atiq's life and death are archetypal to India's dysfunctional criminal justice system. The law couldn't punish or protect him. Ironically, he lived by crime and was killed by criminals while in police custody. Law had no relevance in his life or death, though he had the moniker of a lawmaker.

Born on August 10, 1962, to Haji Feroz Ahmed, a tonga walla, Atiq entered the world of crime, at 17, in 1979, when he stabbed a local rival Mohammed Gulam in full public view, and the first murder case against him was registered. Till 2004, he had accumulated 159 criminal charges in 36 separate cases, according to the affidavit he submitted along with his nomination for Parliamentary elections. But he was convicted for the first time only earlier this year—43 years after his crimes blazed a trail.

For decades, Atiq continued his killing spree, extortion business, kidnappings and land grabbing unchecked, while the spineless system allowed itself to be co-opted by him. His wealth is estimated at over ₹11,000 crore. While browbeating the police and political system, he also managed the revenue authorities through his favourite tools of intimidation and inducements. No serious questions were ever asked about his expanding financial empire till recently.

The upswing in Atiq's crime graph and growing financial clout were matched by his burgeoning stature in politics. In 1989, Atiq won his first election to the Uttar Pradesh Assembly from Allahabad West as an independent. He repeated the feat from the same constituency in 1991 and 1993.

Ignoring his criminal antecedents, political parties vied with each other to win him over to their side because the electorate seemed to endorse Atiq's brand of politics. His muscle power, gangster image, criminal exploits, traction within the Muslim community with communal undertones, and expanding "business empire" were seen not as liabilities but valuable political assets—bringing to the fore the dark underbelly of the Indian electoral system.

Atiq won in 1996 on the Samajwadi party ticket and in 2002 on the Apna Dal ticket to the state Assembly. In 2003, he rejoined SP and got elected to Lok Sabha from Phulpur—a constituency that sent Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru to Parliament in 1952, 1957 and 1962.

Following his election to the Lok Sabha, Atiq vacated the Allahabad West Assembly seat and fielded his brother Ashraf (also his crime partner) in the ensuing bypoll. Ashraf lost to BSP's Raju Pal. The defeat was too much of an insult for the Ahmed brothers to stomach. Three months later, on January 25, 2005, Raju Pal was shot dead publicly by eight assassins, including Ashraf, who was later arrested.

It became difficult for the Ahmed brothers and an acquiescing administration to bury the case because the prime witness, Umesh Pal, refused to retract his statement. He was abducted at gunpoint on February 28, 2006, and was threatened to keep quiet. In June 2007, after BSP replaced SP in Lucknow, an emboldened Umesh Pal lodged an FIR against Atiq and others. On March 28, 2023—17 years after the dastardly crime—a UP court sentenced Atiq to life imprisonment in the kidnapping and torturing case. This was Atiq's first conviction ever.

Don't miss the irony. The UP police, which failed to protect Atiq and Ashraf while they were in its custody, couldn't save Umesh, who was under its protection. On February 24, 2023—32 days before Atiq's first-ever conviction, Umesh was shot dead, along with his police bodyguards, outside his house by a slew of gunmen that included Atiq's youngest son Asad, who was subsequently killed in a police encounter. The UP police failed to save either the don duo or their victim.

The dastardly murder of Atiq-Ashraf in police custody can't be seen in isolation. It is part of an ongoing evisceration of the system that started long back. When Atiq launched himself as a criminal in his teens, the system didn't react. Gradually he was co-opted by a complicit state. He quickly outgrew the system, and eventually he became the system.

The worst the law could do to Atiq was to put him behind bars. In his case, it was no punishment. Jail was just another working station for him. He ran his crime empire from the safe confines of prison, ordering murders and issuing extortion threats. The footprint of his terror machine was vast, extending from media to politics to the judiciary. In one case, as many as 10 judges refused to hear his bail application. The eleventh judge, who finally did, released Atiq on bail.

Atiq was beyond law and any punishment the state could inflict on him. In a given context, he was the law. The rule of law implies the state has the capacity to enforce the law evenly, and it alone has the power to punish. A heavily compromised and emasculated State had long surrendered these privileges to the dreaded don.

The way Atiq lived and how he and his brother met a fiery end underline the collapse of India's institutional framework. Some of the outrage following the double murder is understandable. Most of it, however, is motivated by political considerations, a ploy to polarise Muslim votes rather than any genuine concern for the rule of law. This exposes yet another fault line—why an entire community of over 200 million is sought to be identified with a mafia don by those who claim to be pursuing a 'secular' brand of polity? In both life and death, Atiq has left behind a smouldering slew of issues that India can no longer afford to sweep under the carpet.

MANN KI BAAT AND THE EXERCISE OF POWER

KAJAL BASU

Veteran journalist

On April 24, 2023, an extraordinary thing happened. For the first time in India's post-Independence history, the Central government sent out an 'advisory' to all television news channels and community radio stations to broadcast a politician's address to the general public. It is not a diktat to popularise a policy. It is a diktat to spread, through official, governmental means, the personal word of a political leader—India's leading politician, a divisively authoritarian figure. The advisory, as everyone in the news and information-dissemination business knows, is mandatory. Even though it is not a notified circular, it is no less an official imperative for that.

The programme in question is Prime Minister Narendra Modi's 100th tranche of Mann Ki Baat, his monthly monologue, a pastiche of feel-good sage advice aired every last Sunday of a month to the nation. The first episode was aired on October 3, 2014, barely four months after he won the general election; the 100th is due on Sunday, April 30, 2023—and the dispensation has decided to make a self-promotional festival of it. Modi elocutes in Hindi, and this is translated into many languages, but, pointedly, not into English. This "historic event", however, as the Union Ministry of Information and Broadcasting calls it, will be broadcast worldwide via communitarian video and invited gatherings at high commissions and consulates.

Mann Ki Baat is de rigueur on All India Radio, the world's largest radio network with 262 stations, more than 375 private and community stations, 34 channels of the Doordarshan network, and 333 permitted private satellite TV channels. It is translated into 52 languages, including 11 foreign languages (and dialects and topolects seemingly drawn out of a hat and chosen with no particular regard to their volume of listenership). The diktat, camouflaged as an advisory, has gone out to all of them.

And it is a do-or-else situation. For instance, the Community Radio Station cell of the MIB issued instructions asking for "proof" of the broadcast having taken place in the shape and form of "a photo of the community listening to the broadcast as a memoir" to be sent to the ministry.

"Community Radio Stations are advised to send, a one-minute audio clip of the broadcast consisting of 25 seconds of the initial portion broadcast and 25 seconds of last portion of broadcast appending the name of the Community Radio Station, immediately after completion of the broadcast. The audio clip may be sent through link which shall be shared shortly."

This demand for "proof of work" is unprecedented. What is striking about this is not so much a free-to-choose advisory but the explicit strong-arming. I do not recall the previous carrier of the national flag, the control-freak Indira Gandhi, ordering the broadcast media to carry her speeches even during the Emergency, not even when free news was being blacked out every day in the newspapers. Nor was this the case during the years of her son Rajiv Gandhi, who made a habit, camouflaged in disarming charm, of trying hard to micromanage the New Delhi media.

PTI

The Indian media has a history of ministerial tinpots and other politicians making rules out of their whims and whimsies

Not that this is the first time that government diktat has been imposed on the media: the Indian media has a history of ministerial tinpots and other politicians making rules out of their whims and whimsies. Two latter-day examples should suffice.

In June 2014, a month after it took power, the Modi government issued a diktat to all ministries and bureaucrats to open social media accounts on Twitter, Facebook and YouTube, with orders to update them at least once a week by August. This command followed upon guidelines laid by the previous UPA government in 2012, when only the Prime Minister's Office (PMO) and the external affairs ministry had accounts. The UPA being more freewheeling, the other ministries ignored these guidelines. When the Modi government issued the "advisory", everyone scrambled.

In late 2022, the MIB issued an "advisory" to Central government ministries, state governments and Union Territories that are distributing broadcasting content to withdraw from distribution activities before December 31, 2023. This is bound to strain already-taut Centre-state relations. Nearly every state government has formal and informal channels to slip its content into telecasts: for instance, the Tamil Nadu government owns and operates a cable-distribution company and an educational channel; and the Andhra Pradesh government runs a triple-pronged fibre-optics service that delivers television, internet, and telephony. These will be undone, but the Centre will, cleverly, retain its hold on Prasar Bharati, the state-owned public broadcaster headquartered in New Delhi.

For many reasons, the government's latest "advisory" makes little sense. For one, although a survey by IIM Rohtak found that more than 100 crore people had listened to Mann Ki Baat at least once and 23 crore were regular listeners, the respected Centre for the Study of Developing Societies (CSDS) published a study called Media in India: Access, Practices, Concerns and Effects, in which a four-page section—PM's Mann Ki Baat: A Reality Check—found that most Indian citizens weren't interested.

"[Even] in the Hindi-speaking States, popularity/listenership of PMMKB is rather low. (...) [E]ven households that have a high media presence (TV, internet, stereo, etc), two-fifths had not heard Mann Ki Baat in the last one year and three in every ten had heard it once or twice."

Among BJP supporters, 51% have not listened to Modi's radio homily; 68% of Congress supporters, 67% of Others and the politically unattached have not heard a single episode. In all, 63.25% of those polled have no interest in Modi's excursus.

The only assured listeners are 9% of households with high media presence, 4% with moderate media presence, and 2% with low media presence.

Which brings us to the crux of this exercise. What purpose, except that of domineering and peremptory self-promotion by employing instruments governmental and private alike?

Old nexus

Apropos of Up to the people to address Anand Mohan syndrome in politics (Apr 28). As the edit rightly pointed out, the crime-politics nexus is decades old. It is caste, money and muscle power of criminals that attract politicians, who want to keep their vote bank intact. But now the onus is on the citizens to discard leaders with criminal backgrounds and set healthy trends for democracy.

Ram Saran Singh, Bengaluru

Anand Mohan

Up to the people to address Anand Mohan syndrome in politics (Apr 28) is well-written and should open the eyes and mouths of muted political parties on the release of Anand Mohan. It is a great tragedy of democracy that political leaders are in the laps of mafia dons to retain power. Nitish Kumar, who has been trying hard to become a national leader and kingmaker, has to pay a heavy price for the IAS officer's lynching.

Jayaprakash Reddy, Nalgonda

Women politicians

Women in K'taka fray: Cursory presence (Apr 28) was very informative and thought-provoking. The reason for fewer women politicians is the lack of attitudinal change of male politicians. Unless the men leave the room, it is futile to expect miracles from the female lawmakers. Till then, the women have to strive hard to make room for themselves.

Pratap Nayak, Bhubaneswar

Kharge's remarks

The remark made by Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge about PM Modi is very disgusting. Politicians in India have reached a new low in passing remarks. The animosity they have in their heads makes them speak like that. Are they justifying the adage 'politics is the last resort of a scoundrel'?

Wrestlers' grievances

Although the wrestlers in India have filed sexual harassment complaints against the WFI chief, the police failed to take any action on account of his powerful political influence. The whole episode exemplifies that the judiciary alone can ensure justice is delivered to the aggrieved women wrestlers.

Jayashree Thampi, Thiruvananthapuram

India's growth

Sandip Ghose has rightly and vividly explained points in Successes galore, why hesitate patting government on the back (Apr 28). It is a slap in the face to regional parties, hell-bent on dethroning Modi. His schemes are praiseworthy, though there are minor hiccups in implementation. The benefits are, however, reaching large numbers.

'Peace cannot coexist with terror'

At SCO Defence Ministers' meet, Rajnath stresses fixing accountability on those aiding terror

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

DEFENCE Minister Rajnath Singh on Friday chaired the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) Defence Ministers' meeting and asserted that any kind of terrorist act or support to it in any form is a major crime against humanity and peace and prosperity cannot coexist with this menace.

Addressing the Defence Ministers of SCO member-countries in New Delhi on Friday, he also called upon SCO member-states to collectively work towards eliminating terrorism in all its forms and fix accountability on those who aid or fund such activities.

India has maintained that terrorism emanating from Pakistan remains a core concern in bilateral relations. India has consistently stressed the need for Pakistan to take credible, irreversible and verifiable action to end cross-border terrorism against India.

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh with SCO Secretary General Zhang Ming on Friday

"If a nation shelters terrorists, it not only poses a threat to others, but for itself too. Radicalisation of youth is a cause of concern not only from the point of view of security, but it is also a major obstacle in the path of socio-economic progress of society. If we want to make the SCO a stronger & more credible international organisation, our top-most priority should be to effectively deal with terrorism," Singh said.

Elaborating on the Indian vision of a robust framework of regional cooperation, Singh said the framework should be such "which mutually respects the sovereignty and territorial integrity of all member states by taking care of their legitimate interests".

"New Delhi strives to further bolster trust and cooperation among the members of the SCO as it believes in maintaining peace and security based on the provisions of the Charter of the United Nations, He asserted. Tension related to the borders, territorial and maritime with China exists between India and Bhutan in addition to the maritime dispute between China and other nations.

The 3,488 km-long LAC with China is tense with troops have been deployed by the two nations in Eastern Ladakh and there is precautionary deployment all across the LAC.

CO PRODUCTION OF WEAPONS

In a bilateral meeting, Defence Ministers of India and Russia on Friday discussed defence and military issues and also the participation of the Russian industry in production of military equipment in India. Meanwhile, , the Russian defence minister accused the US and West of provoking other countries into military standoffs with Russia and China

Mild Covid-19 infection can harm heart health: Study

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

EVEN mild cases of Covid-19 can have long-term harmful impacts on cardiovascular health, a latest study has said.

The study, published in the Journal of Clinical Medicine, is the first to compare pre and post Covid-infection levels of arterial stiffness - a marker associated with the ageing and function of our arteries.

The study found that in individuals diagnosed with mild Covid-19, artery and central cardiovascular function were affected by the disease two to three months after infection.

The side effects included stiffer and more dysfunctional arteries that could lead to cardiovascular disease development. "We were surprised to observe such a decline in vascular health, which deteriorated even further with time since Covid-19 infection," said the co-author, Maria Perissiou from the University of Portsmouth.

"Usually, you would expect inflammation to decrease with time after infection, and for all the physiological functions to go back to normal or a healthy level," Perissiou said.

Evidence suggests that this phenomenon stems from Covid-19 triggering the auto-immune process that leads to vasculature deterioration, the study said. The long-term consequences of the disease on vascular health still need to be explored, the study further said.

Amid Operation Kaveri, India airlifts French embassy staffer

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

EVEN as evacuation of Indian nationals continued from Sudan, New Delhi went a step further and evacuated a French embassy staff from Khartoum.

"My heartfelt thanks to India for evacuating a local staff member of the French embassy in Khartoum and her family in an IAF flight on Thursday night,'' said Emmanuel Lenain, ambassador of France to India. Two days ago, the French evacuation team had evacuated five Indians from Sudan.

Meanwhile, despite ceasefire violation, which also led to a Turkey-bound aircraft being shot at, the evacuation of Indians from Sudan continued.

Uptil now, 11 batches of stranded Indians have left for Jeddah. They were transported from Port Sudan to Jeddah in an IAF C130J aircraft with 135 passengers on board. Meanwhile, a number of people from Hakki Pakki tribe too have been evacuated from Sudan and have reached Jeddah.

"The 10th batch of 326 Indians evacuees from Sudan reached Jeddah by INS Tarkash. They will be sent back to India soon. Meanwhile, we sent back 362 Indians on a flight bound for Bengaluru – most of them being from the Hakki Pakki tribe," said Minister of State for External Affairs, V Muraleedharan.

Muraleedharan has been stationed in Jeddah to oversee the evacuation of Indians from Sudan to India via Jeddah. Earlier in the day an aircraft bound for Delhi too left Jeddah.

"A batch of 392 Indians flew back to Delhi from Jeddah on IAF C17 Globemaster. They will be with their beloved ones soon," said Muraleedharan.

According to estimates, nearly 2000 Indians are in the safe zone now- which means that they are out of the strife torn areas of Khartoum and are either in Port of Sudan or Jeddah or are home bound to India.

Reservoir levels give comfort ahead of summer

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @New Delhi

THERE is good news on the waterfront even as the country is heading towards one of the harshest summers. Indian reservoirs are doing better than in the previous year. They have stored more water as on April 20 compared to the corresponding period of last year. The water level is higher compared to the average in the last 10 years as well.

According to the Central Water Commission (CWC) reservoirs storage status report, the live storage available in 146 reservoirs on April 20 is 95% of the live storage of the corresponding period of last year and 120% of storage of average of last 10 years. There was 2% increase in both categories of water level in early March.

On March 2, the reservoir live storage was 93% of the live storage of the corresponding period of last year and 116% of storage of average of last 10 years.

Better live storage will help in providing drinking water in urban areas and for industrial use during the peak summer hours. These reservoirs act as buffers between large rivers and urban water supply networks, involving industrial users. Experts see an increase in water level is due to excess rainfall in March and government preparation for El Nino conditions which may impact the Indian monsoon as it might control water release for summer crops.

"In March, country received 26% above normal rainfall," says Pradeep Kumar, former Commissioner at CWC. "Central India and Southern India received 206% and 107% above normal rainfall, which contributed to these reservoir levels" he adds.

The number of reservoirs having storage more than last year increased to 52 from 45 in early March. However, reservoirs having storage of more than average of the last ten years are reduced from 99 to 91. States such as Punjab, Rajasthan, Odisha, Madhya Pradesh and Chhattisgarh are having better storage than in last year.

However, other experts say the micro-picture of positive development is different.

"Some critical states such as Bihar, Gujarat, Maharashtra, Uttar Pradesh, Andhra Pradesh, Telangana, Karnataka, Tamil Nadu having lesser storage than in last year for a corresponding period," says Himanshu Thakkar of South Asia Network on Dams, Rivers and People.

Live storage of reservoirs in first week of March 2023

	First week of March 2023	First week of March 2022	Average of last 10 years
Live Storage of Reservoirs in First week Of March	91.498 BCM (93% of previous year and 116% of last 10 years)	98.4317 BCM	78.634 BCM

Live storge of reservoir in third week of April 2023

	Third week of April 2023	Third week of April 2022	Average of last 10 years
Live Storage of Reservoirs in First week of April	66.88 BCM (95% of previous year and 120% of last 10 years)	70.309 BCM	55.961 BCM

SC stays Calcutta HC judge order setting midnight deadline to its Secy General

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday, in a suo motu sitting, stayed the order passed by Calcutta High Court judge Justice Abhijit Gangopadhyay directing secretary general in the apex court to provide him by midnight the transcription of the interview which was placed before a Chief Justice of India (CJI) DY Chandrachud-led bench.

Justice Gangopadhyay was asked to reassign the West Bengal school jobs scam case to another judge after examining a report on his interview to a news channel on the matter.

Justice Gangopadhyay had passed the impugned order hours after the SC directed the acting Chief Justice of the Calcutta HC to reassign the case pertaining to the school job-for-bribe scandal from the bench of Justice Abhijit Gangopadhyay to another judge.

A bench of justices AS Bopanna and Hima Kohli said the order that was passed by the HC judge was not "proper." The bench also directed Secretary General of the court to communicate the stay order to the Calcutta HC Registrar General.

"For the sake of transparency, I direct the Secretary General of the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India to produce before me the report and the official translation of the interview given by me in media and the affidavit of the Registrar General of this Court in original, forthwith by 12 midnight today. This is required for the sake of transparency. I will be waiting in my chamber till midnight to get the two sets in original placed before the honourable judges of the Supreme Court," Justice Gangopadhyay said in a suo motu matter.

A bench of CJI DY Chandrachud and Justice PS Narasimha had passed the said order pursuant to perusing the authenticated transcripts of the comments made by Calcutta HC judge Justice Abhijit Gangopadhyay about the proceedings in the West Bengal school job for bribe. "We direct the acting chief justice of Calcutta HC to reassign the pending proceedings in the case to some other judge of the HC," the order had said.

The order was passed in a plea by TMC general secretary Abhishek Banerjee against Calcutta HCs order of directing to take Kuntal Ghosh, a suspended TMC leader in custody and asking CBI and ED to question TMC general secretary Banerjee in the scam case.

EXPLAINER • CASTE CENSUS

CASTE MATTERS

AS CLAMOUR FOR CASTE-BASED CENSUS RISES, HERE IS THE HISTORY AND REASONS FOR THE DEMAND.

There is mounting pressure to include caste-related questions to understand the economic well-being of marginalized communities accurately. Previous censuses have only published data on Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes, besides the general category. The demand now is to include the Other Backward Classes (OBCs). This will make the census reflect the present socio-economic status of various castes and updated OBC figures.

WHY IS CASTE CENSUS BEING DEMANDED?

A caste-based census gathers data on economic status and other caste -related information of every Indian family, both in rural and urban areas to help the authorities define deprivation indicators and map inequalities at a broader level. This data helps better policy-making by identifying both disadvantaged and privileged sections of society. Many political parties feel that the present reservation being based on the last caste census conducted in 1931 does not reflect the correct numbers.

THE FIRST AND LAST CASTE CENSUS

The first census in India to include data on caste was conducted in 1881. From 1931 until 1941 caste-based data was collected but not published. The UPA government conducted SEBCs in 2011. It was the first caste-based census since 1931. The data was, however, not published. The population of OBCs was 52% as last recorded in the 1931 caste census.

IS CASTE CENSUS CONSTITUTIONALLY MANDATED?

Article 340 of the Constitution authorises the appointment of a commission to investigate the conditions of SEBCs and the difficulties under which they labour. The commission is assigned to make recommendations for the Union or any State necessary for the removal of such difficulties and to improve the conditions of the Socially and Economically Backward Classes.

WHO IS SEEKING CASTE CENSUS?

A large number of political parties have publicly expressed support for a caste census, while the Central government has cited the need for more time to conduct it. The NDA government agreed for a Caste Census in 2018. However, in 2021, it rejected a demand for another SECC by the Maharashtra Government citing policy issues and administrative challenges.

WHY IS CASTE CENSUS BEING OPPOSED?

Critics say a caste-based census may give rise to demand for more reservation in jobs and educational institutions from various communities. The Mandal Commission previously granted reservations to 27% of jobs under the Central government and public sector undertakings, resulting in a total of 49% reservations for SC, ST, and OBC. The Supreme Court had capped the reservation to 50% through the Indira Sawhney judgment. There is now a demand for removing this cap.

HOW IS THE CAST CENSUS GAINING MOMENTUM?

The Supreme Court of India dismissed a plea challenging the Bihar caste survey in January 2023. The Bihar governments' Caste survey is now underway. In 2015, the Karnataka government conducted a caste survey which was not released.

WHAT NEXT?

The decennial census was due in 2021. It has been delayed due to the Covid pandemic. The government has to take a call on whether or not to include caste in the next census.

Yogi calls for 'triple-engine govt'

Urban local body polls: CM holds rallies in 4 districts, promises push to religious tourism

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

CM Yogi Adityanath waves at supporters during a rally in Balrampur | EXPRESS

PITCHING for the BJP-led "triple-engine" government in Uttar Pradesh, CM Yogi Adityanath on Friday promised swift development of civic bodies as all the three tiers of governance will be led by a single party with better coordination at each level.

The CM also promised a further push for religious tourism. The state already has a majestic corridor dedicated to Lord Shiva in Prime Minister Narendra Modi's parliamentary constituency Varanasi. Besides a grand under-construction Ram temple is likely to be open for devotees in Ayodhya by early next year. The CM announced a facelift of Naimisharanya, considered among the most sacred places of pilgrimage for the followers of Sanatan faith.

Yogi slammed the opposition for fostering the politics of casteism in the state.

The CM while seeking support for the BJP candidates in urban local body polls in the Agra and Braj region, on Thursday, promised the Mathura-Vrindavan Corridor on the lines of Ayodhya and Kashi.

It was the fourth day of CM Yogi's whirl-winding poll rallies across the state on Friday when he addressed people in Sitapur, Lakhmipur Kheri, Balrampur and Gorakhpur.

"On the lines of Kashi, Ayodhya, and Mathura-Vrindavan, Naimisharanya will soon undergo a facelift that will boost religious tourism leading to many employment opportunities in every sector," said the CM at a rally in Sitapur. Naimisharanya is located in Sitapur district.

While addressing a huge gathering in Balrampur, the CM explained how travelling time had changed for good after 2017 when BJP government took over in the state. "Before 2017, I took four hours to travel from Gonda to Devipatan temple. Now, this travel time is reduced to only 45 minutes," he said. Drawing a parallel between the UP urban local body polls and 'Devasur Sangram' (the mythological conflict between divine forces and demons), CM Yogi said: "From Naimisharanya, the land of sages, Maharishi Dadhichi once donated his bones to make the weapons for the victory of the divine forces. Now here is the perfect opportunity to use this election to teach the demonic corrupt, miscreants, mafia, and criminals a lesson."

In Lakhimpur Kheri, Yogi reiterated good governance, people's welfare and BJP government's good intention without any discrimination, as the principles underlining his governance. "Today, the public has faith in BJP. Citizens' security, good governance and welfare of citizens are guaranteed. By adding another engine to double-engine government, the speed of facilities reaching each section will increase manifold. This will also help in finishing the corrupt and criminals as well," he said.

Attacking the opposition, Yogi alleged that previous governments failed in ensuring optimum use of resources of the region as per its potential and stalled the development.

"The farmers in Lakhimpur possess the power of feeding the state and the country. The sweetness of the sugar produced here percolates to the entire country and the world," he said, spelling out his plan for further development of the Terai district.In Balrampur, the CM mentioned how action against gangsters and criminals who roamed the streets of districts to intimidate people were forced to beg for mercy with the placards around their necks.

Tension in Manipur town as CM's meet venue burnt down

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

The venue that was vandalised by a mob

MANIPUR CM N Biren Singh on Friday cancelled his scheduled visit to the hill district of Churachandpur as tension prevailed after an unruly mob had vandalised and set ablaze the venue of his programme on Thursday night. The authorities clamped prohibitory orders under Section 144 of the CrPC and suspended mobile internet services for five days in Churachandpur. Internet services were also suspended in adjoining Pherzawl district.

When rumours spread on Friday that Singh would attend the programme, a mob arrived at the site and fought with the police who used tear gas shells to disperse the protestors. The CM was scheduled to inaugurate an open gym at the PT Sports Complex in New Lamka town in Churachandpur and attend the first anniversary celebration of LM Khaute as MLA on Friday.

Khaute, who is a former director general of police, and four other MLAs of his party JDU had "merged" themselves with the ruling BJP last year. Singh warned of action against all those involved in Thursday's act. "The local MLA had invited me to a celebration and to inaugurate an open gym," the CM said.

"It is an internal matter of the constituency. We will definitely take action against the miscreants whoever they are," he warned. Khaute had requested Singh to cancel the visit given the volatile situation. "I requested him to cancel the visit. It was cancelled accordingly," the MLA said.

On Thursday, Indigenous Tribal Leaders' Forum had called for a total shutdown in Churachandpur on Friday in protest against the alleged "unlawful activities" of the state government.

'Grand alliance like a film, Lalu its director'

Newly appointed Bihar BJP president Samrat Choudhary, known for his acerbic comments against CM Nitish Kumar, turned his attack towards Lalu this time. Lalu Prasad reached the state capital after four months post his kidney transplant in Singapore. Without taking names of Nitish, his deputy Tejashwi Yadav and others, The BJP leader said they all are actors of a film but the real director is Lalu only. It is good for Nitish that director 'saheb' is coming back as he will be close to super power now, Choudhary remarked.

Janata Dal wants Baba Bagheshwar behind bars

After RJD supremo Lalu Prasad's elder son Tej Pratap Yadav's threat that he will oppose Acharya Dhirendra Krishna Shastri at the airport if he comes to Bihar to divide Hindus and Muslims, state RJD chief Jagadanand Singh said he wants to see Shastri in jail. People like Bageshwar Baba should be in jail. It is disappointing that he is outside as anybody is becoming Baba these days, he remarked. 3-5 militants involved in Poonch attack, used steel-coated bullets: DGP

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

A week after five soldiers were killed in a militant attack in border district of Poonch in J&K, the Union Territory's police chief Dilbagh Singh on Friday said three to five militants were involved in the attack.

The militants had used steel coated bullets that can pierce bulletproof (BP) armoured vests and IED was used by militants, who enjoyed local support. He said the weapons for the attack were dropped by a drone and six locals have been detained for their alleged involvement in providing shelter and food to militants and helping in their transportation.

"The militants had conducted a recce of the area (Bhimber Gali-Surankote-Poonch Road), where the attack took place on April 20. They selected the spot after the recce and it seems they had a network that informed them about speed of the vehicle in view of downhill terrain and blind curves," Director General of Police (DGP) Dilbagh Singh told reporters in Darhal area of Rajouri district today.

In the militant attack on April 20, five soldiers were killed and another was critically injured. The militants had snatched soldiers' weapons before fleeing from the spot. The DGP said three-five militants were involved in the attack.

They had planted IED in the vehicle after jawans sustained injuries in the gunfire. "They used steel coated bullets to pierce BP vests. The IED explosion caused fire in the vehicle".

He said steel coated bullets were used by militants in the past in Poonch and Rajouri in Kashmir. "This ammunition was also used in an attack on a minority community in Dangri, Rajouri on January 1 this year". Asked whether militants had got any local support, DGP said this kind of attack cannot take place without local support. "We have arrested a module that was providing support to militants. Six persons have been detained," he said.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

ALMOST a week after top wrestlers resumed their protest against sexual harassment, the Delhi Police filed two first information reports (FIRs) against the then Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) chief Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh.

The first FIR pertains to allegations by a minor, which has been registered under the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act along with relevant sections of the Indian Penal Code concerning outraging modesty.

The second FIR is for a comprehensive probe into complaints by adults under relevant IPC sections pertaining to outraging of modesty.

Apparently, the Delhi Police were forced to take action as matter came under the Supreme Court's glare. To save face, the police told the court they have decided to book Singh on Friday itself.

At the time of going to press, the wrestlers were examining the FIRs. They had earlier said they will call off their protest only if the FIRs are is strong.

"We've decided to register FIR and this will be registered today," said Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, appearing for the Delhi Police.

On and off akhadas, 'shaktishali' Brijbhushan holds on to his turf

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

BRIJBHUSHAN Sharan Singh, 66, the six-time MP, has a penchant for hogging the limelight, often for wrong reasons. Be it the confession on camera that he shot the killer of his friend, or slapping a wrestler on dais on a minor issue -- he has cultivated his image of a strongman. He now faces multiple charges as the president of the Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) by ace wrestlers of the country.

Singh has been heading WFI for over 12 years and vice-president of the United World Wrestling-Asia, there are many layers to the persona of the ruling party MP who represents Kaiserganj constituency in Lok Sabha. Brijbhushan Sharan Singh likes to be called 'shaktishali' (strongman) and being a wrestling buff, he has spent much of his youth in akhadas of Ayodhya.

He has been a BJP MP for five terms and once as the SP candidate in 2009. Singh has represented Gonda and Balrampur in the past.

Singh belongs to Gonda and has been vocal about his Hindutva credentials. He has been deeply associated with RSS and VHP during the temple movement in 1989. He proclaims to be a Kar Sevak, who was in Ayodhya when Babri Masjid was razed on December 6, 1992 and was among LK Advani, MM Joshi, Uma Bharti, Kalyan Singh to be named as an accused in the demolition case.

Strongman of Gonda

Singh has been heading WFI for over 12 years and is vice-president of the United World Wrestling-Asia. Brijbhushan was booked under TADA on allegations of his links with the D-Company but was later absolved in the case. Once a history-sheeter, he now has four criminal cases against him and does not figure on the list of gangsters in UP.

At the same time, he was also accused of helping Dawood Ibrahim gang members, including Subhash Thakur, Jayendra Thakur and Paresh Desai, who were accused of killing Arun Gawli accomplice.

Brijbhushan was booked under TADA on allegations of his links with the D-Company. However, later, he was absolved in the Babri demolition and TADA cases. Once a history-sheeter, he now has four criminal cases of attempt to murder, rioting, and dacoity against him and does not figure on the list of gangsters anymore in UP. Singh now lords over at least 50 educational institutions in Devi Patan range, including Bahraich, Gonda, Balrampur, Ayodhya and Shravasti districts, which are believed to be another source of his strength in UP.

He enjoys a lot of goodwill and exercises influence. At least one lakh students study pharmacy, law, agriculture and other courses in institutes patronized by him. According to a UP BJP leader, every year on Singh's birthday (January 8), students are shortlisted via a talent search to be rewarded with Scooties, motorcycles and cash. "Singh also waives the fee of thousands of students every year," the leader said.

However, he has started handing over his political legacy to the next generation. His younger son Prateek Bhushan is second term MLA from Gonda while his elder one Karan is an office-bearer in WFI. His wife Ketki Devi Singh is the president of Gonda Zila Panchayat. He contested and won his first Lok Sabha election in 1991. He was re-elected in 1999, 2004, 2009, 2014 and 2019.

Infant dies in mother's lap as hospital van arrives 3 hours late in MP town

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

Renu Jatav with her child

DEATH of a six-month-old severely ill child in the lap of her helpless mother as they waited for hours for an ambulance at a community health centre (CHC) in Datia district in has exposed the state of public health services in Madhya Pradesh.

Not only did the free of cost 108 ambulance arrive at the concerned CHC three hours after being requested over phone by the CHC's on duty doctor, but two other ambulances (funded out the local MLA Local Area Development Fund) parked at the same CHC weren't available for the severely ill child. The child's mother couldn't afford to fund fuel for either of the two ambulances.

The shocking incident happened at the Indergarh community health center (CHC) which comes under Sewda assembly constituency, presently represented in the Vidhan Sabha by Congress's Kunwar Ghanshyam Singh. According to reports, a scheduled caste woman Renu Jatav, native of Baderi village, rushed her severely ill six-months-old child to the Indergarh CHC at around 11 am on Thursday. With the child suffering from acute pneumonic symptoms, the on0-duty doctor referred the child to the Datia District Hospital after preliminary treatment.

Renu requested the on-duty doctor to arrange an ambulance for rushing her child to the District Hospital, after which the doctor rang the 108 ambulance, which reportedly arrived at the CHC around three hours later. By then, the little one had died in her mother's lap.

There were two ambulances (funded out of the MLA Local Area Development Fund) parked at the CHC, but their services weren't reportedly provided to the hapless mother as she didn't have money to fund petrol for either of the two ambulances. Renu Jadav, the hapless mother of the deceased child, blamed inadequate treatment at the CHC and delay in ambulance behind her child's death.

Taking cognizance of the matter, a team of SDM, district's chief medical and health officer (CMHO), local police station in-charge and tehsildar, was sent by Datia district collector to the Indergarh CHC on Friday to investigate the entire incident.

Top IT firms' FY23 employee addition falls 69%

Experts say during pandemic, IT firms overestimated demand and since attrition rate was up, they over-hired in FY22

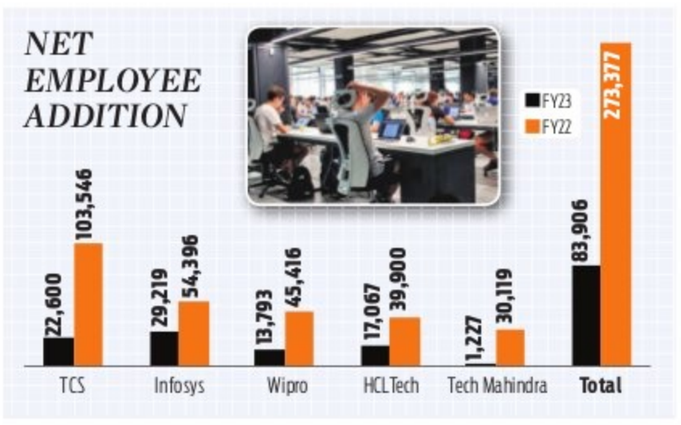
UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

The country's top five IT services companies -- Tata Consultancy Services (TCS), Infosys, Wipro, HCLTech and Tech Mahindra-- together have added only 83,906 employees in FY23, a decline of 69% , compared to 2,73,377 employees onboarded in FY22.

These companies have not set any hiring target for FY24 and for the past two quarters - Q3 and Q4 - IT companies' net addition has been reducing, owing to macroeconomic challenges and slowdown in client spending.

Of all the companies, the country's largest IT services firm TCS recruited only 22,600 employees in FY23, a steep decline of 78%, compared to 1,03,546 in the year-ago period. Tech Mahindra, which announced its Q4 results on Thursday, added only 1,227 employees in the last fiscal compared to 30,119 in FY22. Experts said during the pandemic, all IT companies overestimated their demand and since attrition rate was going up, they over-hired in FY22.

They said the IT sector was not immune to the economic slowdown and had to adjust its hiring plans accordingly. "Despite anticipating high demand, the sector didn't experience the expected growth, which led them to reduce hiring until they can make optimal use of their current overhired resources. The conservative hiring approach may continue for another two quarters. Though it is uncertain when IT companies will resume hiring more actively, a recovery is possible later in FY24, as the economy stabilizes and companies regain their confidence," said Aditya Narayan Mishra, MD and CEO of CIEL HR Services.



TCS adds only 22,600 employees in FY23

Of all the companies, the country's largest IT services firm TCS recruited only 22,600 employees in FY23, a steep decline of 78%, compared to 1,03, 546 in the year-ago period. Tech Mahindra, which announced its Q4 results on Thursday, added only 1,227 employees in the last fiscal compared to 30,119 in FY22

The consistent dip in employee net addition in Q3 and Q4 in Indian IT companies can be attributed to several factors, such as the impact of the global economic slowdown, mass layoffs in the West, and the increasing adoption of automation and artificial intelligence in the industry. These factors have led to a decrease in demand for IT talent and a focus on cost-cutting measures, said A R Ramesh, Director - Managed services & Professional staffing, Adecco India.

During Q4 earnings call, TCS chief human resources officer Milind Lakkad said that they had the net addition of 22,600 employees for the full year, resulting in a closing headcount of 614,795. "These numbers mask the full extent to which we had ramped-up our talent acquisition during the year to cope up with the unprecedented churn in the first half of the year. We onboarded over 44,000 freshers, and our highest ever number of experienced professionals during the year," he added.

Experts also said that the IT industry will witness muted hiring sentiment in the coming quarters.

FOREIGN COMPANIES FACE GROWING SCRUTINY, PRESSURE

Chinese government has increased anti-corruption scrutiny on foreign companies. Earlier this week, Bain and Co said police questioned staff in its Shanghai office for a matter which the company didn't reveal. Last month, Beijing office of corporate diligence firm Mintz Group was raided by police and detained five employees, as per an Associated Press report. Besides that, a Japanese drug maker was detained last month on spying charges. The government has also announced a security review of memory chip maker Micron Inc. These developments come at a time when the ruling Communist Party is trying to reignite investor interest in China when global conglomerates are shifting their investment plans to Southeast Asia, India and other countries. Xi Jinping, China's most powerful leader in decades, is campaigning to tighten ruling party control over entrepreneurs, root out corruption and cut reliance on foreign technology and expertise.

SHARES GAIN, TRACKING WALL STREET RALLY

Asian stock markets rose on Friday following the market trend on Wall Street. Markets in Asia witnessed modest gain as traders waited to see what the Bank of Japan (BOJ) would do in its first policy meeting since Kazuo Ueda took the helm. BOJ kept its ultra-lax policy unchanged, and the Japanese yen weakened sharply against the US dollar. The dollar rose to 134.92 yen from 133.96 yen earlier in the day. Hong Kong's Hang Seng rose 0.6% to 19,951.51 while the Shanghai Composite index surged 0.7% to 3,307.68. Japan's Nikkei 225 index added 1.1% to 28,764.98 and the S&P/ASX 200 in Sydney edged 0.2% higher to 7,308.40. The Nasdaq composite led the market with a 2.4% gain, to 12,142.24. Facebook's parent company Meta helped lift the US market.

SOUTH KOREA

BANKS FACE RISING DELINQUENCIES

As economic growth slows down and higher interest rates pressure borrowers, South Korean bank loan delinquencies jumped to a two-year high in February. According to the analysts, loan delinquencies may continue to rise. According to the South Korea's Financial Supervisory Service (FSS), delinquencies on won-denominated loans reached 0.36% in February, which is the highest since August 2020. Likewise, delinquencies on small and medium-sized enterprise loans also rose to 0.47% from 0.39% the previous month. Delinquencies on household loans reached 0.32%, versus 0.28% the month before. The FSS considers loans delinquent if interest or principal payments are overdue by at least one month. The Bank of Korea (BOK) held its policy rate at 3.50% this month even as increasing risks to the financial sector in major countries. The central bank, however, warned that uncertainties are high. The BOK lifted policy rates 10 times since August 2021.

Revival plan of Jet Airways faces major setback as CEO Sanjiv Kapoor quits

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

THE revival of Jet Airways 2.0 has faced a major setback as the grounded airline's CEO-designate Sanjiv Kapoor has quit the airline. The aviation veteran who had joined Jet Airways as its chief executive officer (CEO) on April 4, 2022, will serve the airline till May 1, 2023.

While the revival of Jet, which was grounded in April 2019, was never very certain, the chances that it will fly again is getting slimmer day by day amid resignations in top management and a never-ending issue with lenders. "Sanjiv Kapoor, chief executive officer-designate for Jet Airways, is departing the company effective Monday, May 1, on the conclusion of his notice period", said Jalan Kalrock Consortium (JKC) in a statement on Friday.

JKC added that they remain fully committed to the revival of Jet Airways, and the Executive Committee of JKC will oversee CEO-designate responsibilities until a suitable replacement is in place.

Ankit Jalan, Board Member - JKC, said: "The revival of Jet Airways is through a court approved process, which has taken more time than originally estimated by us, but needless to say JKC is committed to the revival of Jet Airways."

He added that they are in the last leg of closing the transfer of ownership of Jet to JKC, subsequent to which they would settle outstanding amounts payable to previous creditors as per the approved Resolution Plan. After this, they will recommence the commercial operations of the airline as per the relaunch plans, added Jalan.

> Revival of Jet is through a court approved process, which has taken more time than estimated by us, but needless to say JKC is committed to the revival of Jet
> Ankit Jalan, Board Member - JKC

However, sector experts and some officials at civil aviation ministry have doubts about the revival. Most experts believe problems with Jet are way too many and the departure of Kapoor may prove to be the final nail in the coffin.

"They don't have planes, their top executives have left the sinking ship and the lenders are not willing to transfer the ownership...It will take months if not years to resolve the issues...I have started feeling it is a lost cause now," said a senior analyst at a consultancy firm. On his departure, Kapoor said "I am a firm believer in the tremendous value that can be created by full-service carriers such as Jet Airways following bankruptcy re-structuring."

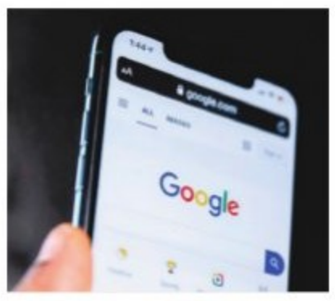
Google to limit loan apps from accessing sensitive user data

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

TECH Giant Google's new personal loan policy for apps could help many borrowers as it prohibits these apps from accessing borrowers' sensitive data such as contacts or photos. The deadline to complete the personal app declaration for India is May 31.

Of late, many cases are emerging where borrowers are being harassed by instant loan apps and they follow unethical practices to recover loan amount. Google has asked personal loan apps in India to provide necessary documentation to support their declaration. For example, if they are licensed by the RBI to provide personal loans, they must submit a copy of their licence for review. If they are not directly engaged in money lending activities and are only providing a platform to facilitate money lending by registered NBFCs or banks to users, they will need to accurately reflect this in their declaration.

The company's recent policy update to limit digital lending apps from accessing sensitive user data is a crucial step towards curbing predatory lending and other malpractices that have been a growing concern, said Shashank Sharma, Director at Scoreme Solutions.



"By restricting access to data like contacts, photos, and location, Google has made it more challenging for lenders to engage in unethical recovery practices, such as blackmailing borrowers with sensitive images or harassing their acquaintances. Its privacy sandbox aims to protect people's privacy online and provide developers with tools to build digital businesses while reducing cross-site and cross-app tracking," he said.

He added that this policy update is a step forward, but unethical practices by some loan apps still pose a risk. The Reserve Bank of India recently raised concerns over the growing unethical loan recovery practices by loan apps.

Mahesh Shukla, CEO and Founder PayMe, said Google Play Store's new norms will protect the borrowers from harmful and deceptive lending practices like sharing contacts or images. He said that these norms will create a more level playing field for digital lenders who operate with transparency and fairness. "To further encourage digital lenders to follow good lending practices, Google Play Store has mandated apps to clearly disclose important information about their loans, including minimum and maximum periods of repayment, interest rates, and other charges," he added.

Reliance Capital lenders discuss IIHL resolution plan

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

THE lenders of Reliance Capital have nudged the Hinduja Group firm IndusInd International Holdings Limited to shell out more money for the assets of the debt-laden firm undergoing the insolvency process.

IIHL has agreed to infuse ₹300 crore into Reliance General Insurance and offer another ₹50 crore for the items, taking to the total bid amount to ₹10,000 crore. The entire bid amount will be paid upfront in cash, according to a source.

The firm was the highest bidder with an offer of ₹9,650 crore in the second round of auction held on Wednesday. The Committee of Creditors (CoC) held a meeting on Friday to discuss the resolution plan of Hinduja Group firm. The creditors feel the offer by IIHL is still less than the ₹13,000 crore liquidation value of RCap. Their negotiations are still on to further improve the offer. Lenders are discussing the possibility of holding a next round of auction.

Total value of IIHL's bid is ₹1,900 crore more than its own bid of ₹8,110 crore in the first Challenge Mechanism held in December 2022. Torrent's highest bid was ₹8,640 crore in the first challenge mechanism. IIHL bid is higher by ₹1,380 crore.

90% crew, majority of pilots accepted new pay package: AI CEO

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AIR INDIA chief Campbell Wilson on Friday said 90% of the airline's cabin crew and a majority of pilots have accepted the new compensation package offered by the airline.

However, pilots from the two unions who had rejected the airline's new pay structure said a majority of pilots have not accepted the revised terms.

In his weekly message to Air India employees, Campbell said the airline is making investments in workplace technology and training as well as in new and improved employee benefits.

"On the latter front, I amm pleased to report that 90% of cabin crew and a majority of pilots have received and accepted the new compensation package offered last week, which will be back dated to 1 April 2023," Campbell added.

On April 17, Tata Group run Air India rolled out a revamped compensation structure for its pilots and cabin crew, which has since been rejected by the two unions -- Indian Commercial Pilots Association (ICPA) and Indian Pilots Guild (IPG).

A senior pilot at Air India told this newspaper that a large number of pilots are yet to accept the new offer as they feel that the management would hear their grievances. "We have stated it clearly what is wrong with the policy. The management, especially the HR department, should make changes in the regressive contract sheet," he said while requesting anonymity.

The two unions had earlier urged their members not to sign on the document, saying that the terms and conditions were being imposed on them. They have also called the new contract 'illegal' and 'unethical', and had warned that any coercive steps will lead to "industrial unrest". More than 1,500 pilots of Air India have written to Ratan Tata, the Chairman Emeritus of Tata Sons alleging that they are not being treated with 'respect' and 'dignity' by the HR department of the airline.

The airline, which currently has more than 1,800 pilots, has placed orders for 470 aircraft with Boeing and Airbus, including for wide-body planes.

No final call yet; govt seeks advice from experts on online sale of drugs

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE government hasn't yet taken final call on banning online sale of drugs and medicines, according to a source.

The Centre is seeking advice from experts to take a final decision on online sale of drugs and medicines - whether to ban, highly regulate or allow sale of these items, a top government official told this newspaper.

This newspaper was the first to report that health ministry had sent show cause notices to nearly 31 pharmaceutical companies including Tatalmg, Amazon, Flipkart, Apollo Pharmacy, Practo, among others, involved in online sale of drugs and medicines without licence under the drugs and cosmetics act & rules.

According to the source, the ministry has so far received 16 responses, out of which most companies have sought more time to submit their reply. About six companies including Amazon said they are only providing online platform for sale of drugs and medicines. "Because of online platforms many people are getting addictive as narcotic drugs are easily available there. It is very dangerous, especially for the youth. Besides this, people can order medicines through same prescription from different platforms," the official said.

He further said because of the influx of several online platforms, people are ordering medicines without consulting doctors. As a result, viability of retail stores is fading. "As there is no control over distribution of medicines, any medicine is easily available. Even school going children can buy these via online portals. Putting regulation around is a need of the hour," the official added.

The government is also concerned about sale of spurious drugs and medicines via online portals and apps. However, industry insiders don't agree with the government on this as they say inferior quality drugs and medicines are also available in brick and mortar stores. As per them, the online sector played a critical role during the Covid pandemic, so the government should consider that too before taking action. Also, some foreign investors have put in huge sums in some e-pharmacies, so it just doesn't make any sense to frame such a policy.

Absolutely no reason to review IOA constitution adopted in Nov: IOC

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

THE newly-amended Indian Olympic Association (IOA) constitution should not be reviewed again and changes cannot be made without consulting the International Olympic Committee (IOC). While replying to questions on IOA's meeting called on May 5 to discuss suggestions and objections to the the newly-drafted IOA constitution, the IOC said that no alteration should be made without consulting them. The IOC also said that they were originally not informed of such a meeting.

"The IOC was not informed of the Extraordinary General Assembly meeting called by the Indian Olympic Association (IOA) on 5 May but has since discussed with the IOA to make it clear that no amendment to the IOA Constitution can be adopted without prior consultation and agreement with the IOC and that, at this stage, the IOC sees absolutely no reason why the IOA Constitution, which was just adopted in November last year, would need to be reviewed again," the IOC told this daily in an email statement.

Express point

Even during the EC meeting on Thursday, the house discussed about certain changes that can be adopted or incorporated in the constitution.

In reply to an IOA petition, the SC on April 5 said that they need to draw finality to the constitution and had asked IOA to make suggestions or objections in the next hearing on May 9.

On the appointment of the Chief Executive Officer (CEO), which the IOA has not been able to process as yet, the IOC said the IOA must appoint CEO. "The IOC has been insisting for several months that the IOA must appoint the new CEO without any further delay, in accordance with the IOA Constitution," said IOC. "This matter was also raised at the latest IOC EB meeting on 29 March 2023 and the IOA was urged to proceed promptly. "Unfortunately, this process has yet to be completed by the IOA, and the IOC has once again requested an update on the next steps."

On the Wrestling Federation of India issue, the IOC said: "The situation of the Wrestling Federation in India is being monitored by the International Federation concerned (United World Wrestling – UWW) and the IOA has been requested to liaise and work closely with UWW to coordinate any action vis-a-vis the Wrestling Federation in India."

Bajrang Punia (centre) trains along with other protesting wrestlers at Jantar Mantar in New Delhi on Friday | SHEKHAR YADAV

'FIRST VICTORY' FOR GRAPPLERS

ENS/AGENCIES @ New Delhi

TOP wrestlers of the country finally had something to cheer about after the Delhi Police filed FIRs. However, until late they were still at the protest site and were weighing their future options.

One of the top wrestlers, Bajrang Punia claimed that electricity of the area was disconnected. Appearing on an Insta live, he said they were left in the darkness. He claimed that the Delhi Police have said that "do whatever you can do, we will not allow any food or water".

Earlier, after the Delhi Police told the apex court that they are going to file an FIR against former Wrestling Federation of India chief Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh on Friday, the wreslers called it "the first step towards victory"said they would continue with the protest until the BJP MP is removed from all the positions.

"This is first step towards victory but our protest will continue," Sakshi Malik told reporters. Vinesh Phogat said it took Delhi Police six days to file an FIR and they don't trust the probe agency. "It (Police) might file a loose (proper) FIR. We we will see, observe then take a decision (on calling off protest). He should be behind the bars and removed from all the posts he holds, otherwise he will try to influence the investigation."

Bajrang Punia thanked all the sportspersons who supported them. "Two Olympic gold medallists (Neeraj Chopra and Abhinav Bindra) have tweeted as they understand our pain being athletes. If the President of a Federation will be involved in such acts where will the athletes go? Strong action should be taken against him," the Tokyo Olympics bronze medallist said. On Anurag Thakur's assertion that the government backed the wrestlers and he spent 12 hours with them, Bajrang countered the Sports Minister by saying that,"Out of those 12 hours, Thakur was hardly present for 12 minutes during those interactions (during the January protest)."

The Indian sporting fraternity on Friday put its weight behind the protesting wrestlers with Olympic gold medallist Neeraj Chopra leading the way with a plea for "quick action".

What stars say...

Sporting fraternity voiced their concerns over the ongoing issue in wrestling. Here's a look...

As a nation, we are responsible for safeguarding the integrity and dignity of every individual, athlete or not. What's happening should never happen.

— Neeraj Chopra, Tokyo Olympics gold medallist javelin thrower

As athletes, we train hard every day to represent our country on the international stage. It is deeply concerning to see our athletes finding it necessary to protest on the streets regarding the allegations of harassment in the Indian wrestling administration.

— Abhinav Bindra, Beijing Olympics gold medallist shooter

It breaks my heart to see our Olympic & Worlds medallists in this state. Sportspersons also serve the nation by bringing glory and laurels. I hope & pray that the law takes its own course and justice is served at the earliest.

— Nikhat Zareen, Boxing two-time world champ

As an athlete but more as a woman this is too difficult to watch .. they've brought laurels to our country and we have all celebrated them, with them... if you have done that then it's time to now stand with them in this difficult time too... this is a highly sensitive matter and serious allegations. I hope whatever the truth is justice is served... sooner rather than later.

— Sania Mirza, India tennis ace

It is extremely sad that our champions, who have brought laurels to the country, hoisted the flag and brought so much happiness to all of us, have to come out on the road today. It is a very sensitive matter and it should be investigated impartially. Hope the players get justice.

— Virender Sehwag, former India cricketer

Brij Bhushan hints at conspiracy

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

EMBATTLED former Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) chief Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh on Friday held the protest against him by wrestlers politically motivated and claimed the protesters are being funded to carry out the agitation. Welcoming the Supreme Court's directive to Delhi police to register an FIR against him, Singh, who is also a BJP member of parliament, said he has complete faith in the country's judiciary system and police.

"The SC today (Friday) directed Delhi police to register an FIR against me. I welcome the decision and I will cooperate with the police," Singh told this daily. Adding further, he said: "I am not running away and ready to cooperate with investigative agencies. I did that in the past as well and appeared before the oversight committee formed by the sports ministry and Indian Olympic Association (IOA) panel. I will continue to assist as I have full faith in the police and judiciary system."

Singh, who has already announced that he will not contest for the top post as he has been rendered ineligible as per Sports Code after serving three tenures as the WFI chief, however, claimed the protest by the wrestlers is not for the sport. "Even as the apex court directed cops to register an FIR, they are not satisfied. They now want me to be disqualified as a member of Lok Sabha. Tomorrow, they will come up with new demands. This all doesn't make sense and hints at a bigger conspiracy. Initially, they wanted my removal as the WFI chief and registration of FIR. Now as both of their demands have been met, they want more. They don't have faith in investigative agencies. First, they insisted on the inclusion of their fellow wrestler Babita Phogat in the oversight committee and when she was included and the probe was done, they were not satisfied with it. They wrote to the IOA to form a panel to investigate the charges but once it completed the probe, they didn't believe it either. They have even cast aspersions on the sports ministry, which formed the oversight committee and included Babita in it on their insistence."

Singh also claimed that it was Babita who had written to the Delhi police seeking permission to sit-in when the wrestlers first staged a protest in January. "She (Babita) sought permission for the sit-in and then met the wrestlers promising them redressal of their grievances. She was then included in the oversight committee. I appeared before it and presented my side with evidence. How can someone, who has sought permission for the protest, could be included in the committee? I accepted that as well. Later, Babita claimed she was not happy with the probe even as other members agreed with the findings. Now the protesters claim seven wrestlers including a minor were harassed by me. Why these seven wrestlers didn't record their statements with the OC and IOA panel? How they suddenly propped up now? These indicate toward a bigger conspiracy."

Chance for GT to go top

Gujarat Titans can climb back to top spot with a win while Kolkata Knight Riders search for consistency after arresting a four-match losing run. A look...

NOOR, RASHID AXIS

Since making his debut, Noor Ahmad has quietly stacked some impressive numbers. With Rashid Khan for company, the duo have picked up wickets and contained the run flow. In their last two games, as a pair they have gone at under 7.20 runs per over while picking eight wickets.

MANOHAR FACTOR

Titans are blessed in that they have three kinds of finishers in David Miller, Rahul Tewatia and Abhinav Manohar. Of that, the uncapped Manohar stole the show with a 21-ball 42 last time out. If he gets a chance to bat, his contest with the likes of Varun Chakravarthy could be key.

EYES ON NARINE

Sunil Narine has been one of the most consistent spinners in the history of the IPL. That, though, could be coming to an end. He has gone wicketless in each of his last five games, conceding over 35 runs in three of those games. They may quickly have to take a call on questioning his place in the side.

A DISPLAY of brutal hitting from Kyle Mayers and Marcus Stoinis fired Lucknow Super Giants to 257 for five, the second highest total in IPL history, against a profligate Punjab Kings here on Friday.

Mayers (54 off 24) went on the rampage in the Powerplay before Stoinis (72 off 40) effortlessly collected boundaries at will to help his team set a massive target. That proved to be enough as Punjab were bowled out of 201. The home side lost skipper Shikhar Dhawan very early and even though Atharva Taide hit 66 off 36 balls, it was not enough. Yash Thakur was the highest wicket-taker (4/37) for Lucknow.

BRIEF SCORES

LSG 257/5 in 20 ovs (Stoinis 72, Mayers 54) bt PBKS 201 in 19.5 ovs (Atharva 66; Yash 4/37).

Earlier for Lucknow, the other important contributions came from Ayush Badoni (43 off 24) and Nicholas Pooran (45 off 19). Back to lead Punjab after three games, Shikhar Dhawan opted to field but his bowlers were all over the place on a belter of a track. Barring Rahul Chahar, all the other six bowlers leaked more than 10 runs per over.

Arshdeep Singh leaked 54 runs in four overs and Kagiso Rabada gave away 52 runs in four overs although he had two wickets to show for his efforts. The total was also the highest of the season and six runs shy of 263, the highest ever total in IPL history achieved by RCB back in 2013 when Chris Gayle played his epic 175-run knock.

Battle of bottom-dwellers

Delhi Capitals and Sunrisers Hyderabad prop up the league and this match is a timely opportunity to try and escape that...

MOMENTUM WITH DELHI

After an indifferent start, Delhi have two in a row including one against Saturday's opponents. David Warner, who has a lot of history, celebrated wildly and one would expect him to show similar sort of emotions.

FOCUS ON AXAR, KULDEEP

What's worked for Delhi in the last two games is the accuracy and the nous shown by the two spinners - Axar Patel and Kuldeep Yadav. In the last two matches, the pair have combined to pick up seven for 71.

WHAT'S UP WITH TRIPATHI

For a long time, Tripathi was the model uncapped Indian batter in the league. This year, though, it's all come crashing down. Searching for form, he has averaged 26 while striking at 113. Not good enough.

Dhoni, Fleming rue off day

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

AT Jaipur on Thursday, Rajasthan completed a double over Chennai Super Kings. After setting a target in excess of 200, the hosts looked in complete control when the visitors were batting.

"It (target) was quite a bit above par. The reason was the first six overs, we 0gave too many runs, but at the same time the pitch was best to bat on at that time. Even when they were finishing, the edges kept going for boundaries. They got par plus score and we were not able to stop the runs," said CSK skipper MS Dhoni after the match.

"Yashasvi (Jaiswal) batted really well, important to go after the bowlers, took calculated risks. It was slightly easier against our bowlers because we had to assess the right lengths," added the former India captain.

Many who have been following CSK's fortunes this season believe that slight tinkering of the batting order could have helped the chase.

Despite a 46-run stand between Shivam Dube and Ravindra Jadeja, CSK fell short by 32 runs in their chase of 203. "The set roles are very important. (Ajinkya) Rahane has been great for us at No. 3. We don't mess with things that are going well. It was just today (Thursday) we came up against a team that took the pace off the ball. We couldn't get any real momentum in the first six overs. Devon Conway, who is in outstanding form, couldn't get underway.

The rhythm of the innings was slow. When we tried to catch the game up, we made mistakes," said Stephen Fleming, chief coach of CSK after the loss.

Chess World C'ship: Winner takes all

After an exciting first 13 games, the final encounter in the 14-match Nepo-Ding chess World Championship promises more thrills. A look at the talking points...

DEPARTURE FROM PREVIOUS TIES

Classical Championship can be engaging but ultimately drawn out affairs with both players adopting a should-not-lose attitude. This series, though, has been anything but. There have been six decisive games — three for each — across the first 13 games.

DING HAS COME BACK THRICE

The one unescapable narrative the Championship has thrown is the way Ding Liren has restored parity thrice. Ian Nepomniachtchi won game two but saw the lead evaporate. The last time it happened, in game 12, left him shattered.

ADVANTAGE DING IN FINAL GAME

Both players have 6.5 points but the Chinese has the advantage as he begins the last game with white pieces. All three of his previous wins against Nepomniachtchi have come with white pieces. But Nepomniachtchi did enjoy a win with black in game 2.

Wins for Nepomniachtchi: Game 2, Game 5, Game 7

Wins for Liren: Game 4, Game 6, Game 12

Draws: Game 1, 3, 8, 9, 10, 11, 13.

WHAT HAPPENS IF THE LAST GAME IS A DRAW?

Both players will be on seven points so there will be a tie-break to decide the new Classical world champion. Four games with quicker time controls (rapid) will decide the new champion, with each rapid game comprising 25 minutes per player with 10-second increment from the first move. If that's also tied, an even quicker set of games will be played to identify the winner.

Record run for Rezoana

INDIA'S youth athletes had a field day in the ongoing Asian Under-18 Athletics Championships in Tashkent, Uzbekistan on Friday.

The youngsters won two gold, three silver and two bronze medals on the day.

But star performer of the day was quarter-miler Rezoana Mallick Heena, who won the top prize and also broke the meet record in the process.

The 16-year-old from West Bengal clocked 52.98 seconds. The old meeet record (52.02s) was held by Salwa Eid Nasser, a former world champion from Bahrain.

Abinaya Rajarajan of Tamil Nadu she clocked her personal best (11.82s) while winning 100m silver in the girls' section.

Satwik-Chirag make rare return

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

ON a day of mixed results for Indian players at the Badminton Asia Championship, the men's pair of Satwiksairaj Rankireddy and Chirag Shetty advanced to the semifinals. Facing the Indonesian Daddies Hendra Setiawan and Mohammad Ahsan, the Indian No. 6 pair were all over the No. 3 seeds like a rash.

It was touted to be a 50-50 contest but the Indians asphyxiated the opposition and finished the match in straight games (21-11, 21-12). This means the duo have assured themselves of a medal at the Championship but they will have designs of advancing to the title clash. This is India's first medal in the competition after over five decades in the men's doubles category.

PANDAS

A SYMBOL

A native of China, pandas have often been used by the Chinese government as a means of strengthening ties with other countries. They represent peace and serenity

Commencing Panda diplomacy

The panda diplomacy started back in 1936 when a panda cub named Su-lin arrived in the US

IN 1941

as way of expressing her gratitude the then First Lady of the Republic of China Soong Mei-ling gifted two more pandas called Pan-Dee and Pan-Dah to the US for helping them during the Second Sino-Japanese War

STARK CHANGE IN PANDA DIPLOMACY

However, with the rise of People's Republic of China (PRC), the panda diplomacy took a sharp turn. The party used the animals as tools to cement ties with other socialist nations and maintain diplomatic relations with capitalists

PANDAS TOUR THE SOVIET

In 1957, Beijing mayor Peng Zhen sent 2 pandas named Ping Ping and Qi Qi to Moscow as national gift to the people

According to state-run Xinhua agency, United States and North Korea also received similar tokens of goodwill

ALL ABOUT PANDA DIPLOMACY

After spending 20 years in the United States, Ya Ya's (the panda) journey home to China has brought the dragon country's Panda Diplomacy back into the limelight. Let's have a look

Loaning the cuddly animal In 1984, China altered its policy of gifting pandas. Instead, the country started to loan the animal to various nations around the world

$1 MILLION PER PANDA

According to CNN, at first, the bears were rented out to foreign zoos for short-term exhibitions. It was later replaced by long-term "research" loans, which typically last 10 years and cost $1 million annually—money that Beijing said will go to conservation of the species

PANDA'S LIFESPAN

According to Smithsonian's National Zoo and Conservation Biology Institute the average lifespan of a panda is about 15-20 years for wild pandas and about 30 years for those in human care.

LOANED TO 20 COUNTRIES AROUND THE WORLD

Currently, China has loaned pandas to 20 countries around the world including countries like Germany, the Netherlands, Denmark and Finland

Even mild Covid can harm the heart

HEALTH

Even mild cases of Covid-19 can have long-term harmful impacts on cardiovascular health, a study has warned.

The study, published in the Journal of Clinical Medicine, is the first to compare pre and post Covid-infection levels of arterial stiffness; a marker associated with the ageing and function of our arteries.

Researchers found that in individuals diagnosed with mild Covid-19, artery and central cardiovascular function were affected by the disease two to three months after infection.

Side effects include stiffer and more dysfunctional arteries that could lead to cardiovascular disease development.

Emerging evidence suggests that this phenomenon stems from Covid-19 triggering the auto-immune process that leads to vasculature deterioration. As many as 32 participants in the study were monitored.

Research reveals all we share with animals

Sequenced and compared genomes of mammals show that some regions have stayed same across all species

SCIENCE

By comparing the genetic blueprints of an array of animals, scientists are gaining new insights into our own species and all we share with other creatures.

One of the most striking revelations is that certain passages in the instructions for life have persisted across evolutionary time, representing a through line that binds all mammals—including us.

The findings come from the Zoonomia Project, an international effort that offers clues about human traits and diseases as well as animal abilities like hibernation.

David O'Connor, who studies primate genetics at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, said the studies tackle deep questions.

The Zoonomia team, led by Elinor Karlsson and Kerstin Lindblad-Toh at the Broad Institute of MIT and Harvard, looked at 240 species of mammals, from bats to bison.

They sequenced and compared their genomes—the instructions organisms need to develop and grow. They found that certain regions of these genomes have stayed the same across all mammal species over millions of years of evolution.

One study found that at least 10% of the human genome is largely unchanged across species.

Many of these regions occur outside the 1% of genes that give rise to proteins that control the activity of cells, the main purpose of DNA.

Researchers theorised that long-preserved regions probably serve a purpose and are likely what they call "regulatory elements" containing instructions about where, when and how much protein is produced. Scientists identified more than 3 million of these in the human genome, about half of which were previously unknown. Scientists also focused on change within the animal kingdom.

When they aligned genetic sequences for species and compared them with their ancestors, Karlsson said, they discovered that some species saw a lot of changes in relatively short periods of time. This showed how they were adapting to their environments.

Russian vessel near pipeline before blasts

ENERGY

COPENHAGEN: A Russian navy vessel specialised in submarine operations was photographed near the sabotaged Nord Stream gas pipelines just prior to the mysterious September blasts, Danish daily Information said on Friday.

The prosecutor leading Sweden's investigation into the sabotage confirmed the existence of the hitherto publicly unknown photographs. "I'm aware of the information from before... This is not new information to us," Mats Ljungqvist said.

The newspaper said the submarine rescue ship SS-750 was photographed in the Baltic Sea four days before the still-unexplained explosions on the pipelines linking Russia to Germany. The ship carries a mini submarine.

"The Danish military confirmed that 26 photos of the Russian vessel were taken from a Danish patrol boat in the zone located east of Bornholm on September 22, 2022," Information said, adding that the photos were classified.

Ljungqvist said he could not comment on the photographs' significance to the Swedish investigation, noting it was "confidential".

Seven months after the spectacular blasts on the Nord Stream 1 and 2 pipelines, it has yet to be established who was responsible despite criminal investigations in the countries bordering the damaged part of the pipelines—Germany, Sweden and Denmark.

The New York Times reported in March that US officials had seen new intelligence indicating that a "pro-Ukrainian group" was responsible, without the involvement of Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky.

German prosecutors subsequently said that, in January, investigators had searched a ship suspected of having transported explosives used in the blasts. In March, Ljungqvist said it was "still unclear" who was behind the sabotage, calling it "a complex case".

Pets will soon be allowed into more than 120 archaeological sites across Greece, the country's Culture Ministry announced on Thursday, although not in the Acropolis or some of the other top tourist draws. The move, unanimously approved by the country's powerful Central Archaeological Council, will relax current rules which only allow guide dogs for disabled visitors into archaeological sites. The ministry did not specify when the new regulations would be implemented. The council approved the entry of pets provided they are kept on a leash no more than one meter long.

Uptick in tick related diseases

HEALTH

Researchers say it is hard to predict how the tick season will play out. This year's mild winter and early snow melt, could mean more ticks earlier than usual and a wider spread of Lyme disease and other tick-borne diseases. In Connecticut, ticks are showing up in greater numbers this year, as per Goudarz Molaei, a tick expert. So far, more than 700 ticks have been sent in for a testing programme that normally would have gotten 200 to 300 by now. Infected ticks spread bacteria, viruses and parasites that make people sick. Lyme disease is the most common tick-borne infection in the US.

Ed Sheeran's guitar playing comes to his defence in front of a New York jury

LAW

NEW YORK: In a packed New York courtroom, Ed Sheeran picked up his guitar on Thursday and launched into a tune that has him locked in a copyright dispute over Marvin Gaye's soul classic "Let's Get it On" as the only audience that mattered—a jury—looked on. Sheeran was an hour into testimony in Manhattan federal court when his lawyer, Ilene Farkas, pressed him to tell how he came to write "Thinking Out Loud" a decade ago.

He reached back, grabbed his guitar from a rack behind the witness stand and explained that writing a song was second nature to him. He said he used his own version of phonetics to create songs so quickly that he could write up to nine in a day. Even last weekend, Sheeran claimed, he wrote 10 songs.

Then he sang just a few words of the pivotal tune, bringing smiles to the faces of some of the spectators in the courtroom of Judge Louis L. Stanton.

"I'm singing out loud," he sang, loud enough to be heard but not raising decibels in the court. After he finished singing those words, he spoke a few too, saying "and then words fall in" as he tried to teach the jury his method of creating music. He said he collaborated on the song with a co-writer, Amy Wadge, who wrote the opening chords.

Though he's performed with some of the world's great artists and become a regular at music award shows by age 32, he said from the witness stand with his chair tilted toward the jury: "I'm not the world's most talented guitar player."

And when he bumped his hand against the witness stand microphone, he said a quick "sorry."

Then he launched into the song that heirs of Ed Townsend, Gaye's co-writer on "Let's Get It On," say has "striking similarities" and "over common elements" to the famed 1973 Gaye musical treasure.

"When your legs don't work like they used to," he sang earnestly, like he might go deeper into the song. Then, after just a few bars, he abruptly placed the guitar back in the rack behind him as his lawyer told the judge it was an appropriate spot to adjourn for the week.

US-bound tanker seized by Iran on the high sea has 24 Indian crew

DUBAI

MASKED Iranian navy commandos conducted a helicopter-borne raid to seize a US-bound oil tanker in the Gulf of Oman, footage aired by Iran's state television showed Friday.

The capture on Thursday of the Turkish-managed, Chinese-owned Advantage Sweet represents the latest seizure by Iran amid tensions with the US over advancing nuclear programme. While Tehran says the tanker was seized over it running into another Iranian vessel, it has provided no evidence yet to support the claim—and the Islamic Republic has taken other ships as bargaining chips in negotiations with the West.

The footage showed the commandos descending on the deck of the Advantage Sweet by ropes from a hovering helicopter. A photograph showed one commando with his fist in the air after apparently taking the vessel.

The US Navy's 5th Fleet has said the Iranian seizure was at least the fifth commercial vessel taken by Tehran in the last two years.

"Iran's continued harassment of vessels and interference with navigational rights in regional waters are a threat to maritime security and the global economy," it added.

Iranian soldiers boarding the Advantage Sweet oil tanker off the coast of Oman

The vessel's manager, a Turkish firm called Advantage Tankers, issued a statement acknowledging the Advantage Sweet was "being escorted by the Iranian navy to a port on the basis of an international dispute." All the ship's 24 crew members are Indian.

"The safety and welfare of our valued crew members is our No. 1 priority," the firm said. "Similar experiences show that crew members of vessels taken under such circumstances are in no danger."

The vessel had picked up oil from Kuwait and was chartered by Chevron Corp, an Advantage Tankers spokesperson said. It was bound for Houston, Texas, according to the MarineTraffic tracking website.

Thursday's seizure was the latest disruptive incident in the sensitive waters of the Gulf.

Such incidents have escalated since 2018 when the US withdrew from a multinational accord that froze Iran's nuclear programme. Marathon talks to restart the accord have stalled.

The latest seizure came only days after Tehran's Western rivals toughened sanctions on Iran's Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps. Agencies

BBC chairman resigns over Boris Johnson loan inquiry

LONDON

CHAIRMAN of the British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC) Richard Sharp resigned on Friday after a report into whether he failed to properly disclose his involvement in the facilitation of a loan to former British Prime Minister Boris Johnson was published.

The 67-year-old former banker, who has been the chairman of the UK taxpayer-funded licence fee-backed BBC, said the investigation found he had breached the governance code for public appointments.

The independent review, led by barrister Adam Heppinstall, looked at Sharp's appointment and his involvement in facilitating an 8,00,000-pound loan to Johnson.

It emerged that Sharp — formerly a boss of current Prime Minister Rishi Sunak at investment bank Goldman Sachs — had acted as go-between to facilitate the loan for Johnson.

"Mr Heppinstall's view is that while I did breach the governance code for public appointments, he states that a breach does not necessarily invalidate an appointment," Sharp said in a statement.

"Indeed, I have always maintained the breach was inadvertent and not material, which the facts he lays out substantiate. Nevertheless, I have decided that it is right to prioritise the interests of the BBC. I feel that this matter may well be a distraction from the Corporation's good work were I to remain in post until the end of my term. I have therefore this morning resigned as BBC Chair to the Secretary of State, and to the Board," he said. "To chair this incredible organisation has been an honour," he added.

Heppinstall was appointed by the UK's Commissioner of Public Appointments to investigate claims which appeared in The Sunday Times newspaper. Agencies

Russian strikes kill 23 in Ukraine, including 3 kids

Missiles were aimed at places where Kyiv's military reserve units were staying: Moscow

UMAN

RUSSIA fired more than 20 cruise missiles and two drones at Ukraine early on Friday, killing at least 23 people, almost all of them when two missiles slammed into an apartment in a terrifying nighttime attack, officials said. Three children were among the dead.

The missile attacks included the first one against Kyiv in nearly two months, although there were no reports of any targets hit. The city government said Ukraine's air force intercepted 11 cruise missiles and two unmanned aerial vehicles over Kyiv.

The strikes on the nine-story residential building in central Ukraine occurred in Uman, a city located around 215 kilometres south of Kyiv. 21 people died in that attack, according to the Interior Ministry. They included two 10-year-old children and a toddler.

Another of the victims was a 75-year-old woman who lived in a neighbouring building and suffered internal bleeding from the huge blast's shock wave, according to emergency personnel at the scene.

The Ukrainian national police said 17 people were wounded and three children were rescued from the rubble. Nine were hospitalised.

Ukrainian officials have alleged such strikes are part of a deliberate intimidation strategy by the Kremlin.

The Russian Defence Ministry said the long-range cruise missiles launched overnight were aimed at places where Ukrainian military reserve units were staying before their deployment to the battlefield.

"The strike has achieved its goal. All the designated facilities have been hit," Lt. Gen. Igor Konashenkov, the Defence Ministry's spokesperson, said. He didn't mention any specific areas or residential buildings getting hit.

Ukrainian Foreign Minister Dmytro Kuleba said Friday's bombardment showed the Kremlin isn't interested in a peace deal.

"Missile strikes killing innocent Ukrainians in their sleep, including a 2-year-old child, is Russia's response to all peace initiatives," he tweeted.

The attacks came days after President Volodymyr Zelenskyy said that he and Chinese leader Xi Jinping held a "long and meaningful" phone call where Xi said his government will send a peace envoy to Ukraine. AP

Sudan truce extended, but fighting rages on

KHARTOUM

HEAVY explosions and gunfire rocked Khartoum early Friday, residents said, despite the extension of a fragile truce between the county's two top generals.

In the war-ravaged western Darfur region, scores have been killed in days of bitter urban battles in the city of El Geneina, the United Nations says.

Fierce clashes with frequent explosions and gunfire continued Friday in Khartoum's upscale neighbourhood of Kafouri, where the military's warplanes bombed its rivals, the Rapid Support Forces (RSF), residents said. Clashes were also reported around the military's headquarters, the Republican Palace and the area close to the Khartoum international airport.

In a sign of the persistent chaos, Turkey said one of its evacuation planes was hit by gunfire outside Khartoum with no casualties on Friday, hours after both sides accepted a 72-hour truce extension, apparently to allow foreign governments complete the evacuation of their citizens.

The Turkish Defence Ministry said "light weapons were fired" at a C-130 aircraft heading to Wadi Sayidna airbase on Khartoum's northern outskirts to evacuate Turkish civilians. The plane landed safely, the ministry said in a tweet, and no personnel were injured.

The Sudanese military blamed the RSF and posted images on its Facebook page, showing a Turkish aircraft at an airfield, with marks of gunshots on its body and wing. The RSF denied firing on the plane, saying the military controls the area where the airbase is located.

Also on Friday, the UN's refugee agency said that around 40,000 non-Sudanese people have fled Khartoum.

Those who remain in the capital have been living in rapidly deteriorating conditions, mostly trapped inside their homes for days. Agencies

JAPAN'S OCEAN POLICY VOWS TOUGHER SECURITY

DEVELOPING UNDERWATER VEHICLES

The new Basic Plan on Ocean Policy adopted by Cabinet also says Japan must accelerate the development of autonomous underwater vehicles and remotely operated robots to bolster its surveillance capability

BOLSTERING MILITARY POWER

The new strategy highlights the need to bolster Japan's military power with strike capability and double its defence budget within five years

The strategy also calls for closer cooperation between the military and the coast guard in any emergency over Taiwan or other possible conflicts

IMPROVING COAST GUARD'S CAPABILITY

The plan also said the capability of Japan's coast guard needs to be improved. The coast guard frequently confronts vessels of Chinese forces approaching Japanese-controlled disputed islands in the East China Sea

The ocean plan also says Japan needs to be more aggressive about undersea surveys and using undersea resources for energy, calling for greater use of the exclusive economic zone outside of territorial waters to build offshore wind-power generators

LIST OF THREATS

THE POLICY ALSO CITED A LIST OF THREATS WHICH INCLUDE

1. Chinese coast guard ships' repeated intrusions into Japanese territorial waters
2. Growing unauthorised maritime activity by "foreign survey boats" inside Japan's exclusive economic zone
3. Increasing joint military exercises by China and Russia, as well as North Korea's repeated missile launches

> The situation in the ocean around Japan is increasingly tense. It's time for us to unite our wisdom among the industry, academia and government for ocean policy reform—or ocean transformation"

Sri Lanka House okays IMF bailout package

Colombo: Sri Lanka's Parliament on Friday approved the much-needed $3 billion IMF bailout package to revive the island's economy. On Friday, at the end of a three-day debate, 120 Members of Parliament in the 225-member assembly voted in its favour of the deal while 25 of them opposed it.

Court bans sperm donor who fathered 550 kids

The Hague: A Dutch court on Friday banned a man from donating any more of his sperm after he fathered at least 550 children in the Netherlands and other countries. The court noted that under Dutch guidelines, sperm donors are allowed to produce a maximum of 25 children with 12 mothers.

Foreign companies face growing scrutiny in China

Beijing: Foreign companies are under growing pressure in China from anti-corruption, security and other investigations as President Xi Jinping's government tightens control over business. This week, US-based Bain & Co said police questioned staff in its Shanghai office. It gave no details of what they were looking for. Last month, the corporate due diligence firm Mintz Group said Chinese police had arrested five of its local employees and shut down its Beijing office.

China flies drone and 38 warplanes near Taiwan

TAIPEI

A long-range Chinese combat drone capable of carrying a large weapons payload has circled Taiwan, the island's defence ministry said on Friday.

Taiwan's defence ministry said it detected 38 Chinese aircraft, including a TB-001 drone nicknamed the "twin-tailed scorpion," around the island between 6 am Thursday and 6 am Friday.

The drone's circling flight path saw it cross the median line—an unofficial boundary dividing the Taiwan Strait—to the island's south before flying around its east coast and returning to China, a map released by the ministry showed.

The ministry added that 19 of the aircraft, which included five SU-30 and two J-16 fighter jets, had "crossed the median line of the Taiwan Strait or entered Taiwan's southwest, southeast, and northeast (air defence identification zone)."

Separately, China's People's Liberation Army issued a protest over the flight of a United States Navy P-8A Poseidon anti-submarine patrol aircraft through the Taiwan Strait.

Calling Thursday's flight a provocation that the US "openly hyped up," the PLA's Eastern Theater Command said it scrambled fighter jets to monitor the plane's flight. Such acts "fully prove that the US is a disruptor of peace and stability in the Taiwan Strait and a creator of security risks."

The US 7th Fleet said Thursday's flight was in accordance with international law and demonstrates the US' commitment to a free and open Indo-Pacific. "The US will continue to fly, sail, and operate anywhere international law allows including...Taiwan Strait," the statement said. Agencies

He said 62 people had been rescued, including some who were unconscious after drifting in the choppy waters for hours. They were hospitalised and were in stable condition, he said. COURT UPHOLDS DEATH PENALTY OF EX-PRINCIPAL

Thailand's Supreme Court upheld a death sentence for an ex-elementary school principal convicted of killing three people, including a toddler, during an armed gold shop robbery in 2020. The court ruled that Prasitthichai Khaewkao did not deserve a reduction in his original sentence, calling the shooting in a shopping mall in Lopburi province "outrageously, ruthlessly inhuman" in a statement released on Friday. Four people were injured in the attack and a salesclerk, a security guard and a 2-year-old boy were killed. Prasitthichai was found guilty in August 2020 and given a death sentence on charges including first-degree murder

Pakistan court frees Chinese national in blasphemy case

ISLAMABAD

A Chinese national arrested in Pakistan on charges of committing blasphemy has been freed from a high-security prison after an anti-terrorism court granted him bail, officials said on Friday. The court order came on a day when China's new Premier Li Qiang held talks with his Pakistani counterpart Shehbaz Sharif on Thursday.

Judge Sajjad Ahmad Jan in the northwestern city of Abbottabad on Thursday granted the bail to the suspect identified as Tian after he furnished a bond of Rs 2,00,000 as surety. He was later taken to an undisclosed location due to security reasons. Quoting from the section pertaining to blasphemy, the judge ruled that the case did not come within the ambit of "reasonable ground" as the blasphemy charge was the "result of a misunderstanding."

He said the police station concerned in Kohistan had registered a "false case" against the Chinese national. The court ruled that, according to the record, no such offence was committed by the accused and hence he was granted bail, the Dawn newspaper reported. The Chinese national was arrested in the Upper Kohistan district on April 16 after a mob blocked the Karakoram Highway, accusing him of committing blasphemy.

The judge ruled in his order that the three labourers and their interpreter, who had lodged the FIR two days after the incident, were neither able to produce evidence in support of their accusations in the court. The judge said the interpreter was 35-40 feet away from the Chinese national, simply assuming that the former had uttered sacrilegious remarks. PTI

Palace opening

Queen Elizabeth II opened Buckingham Palace to the public for the first time to raise funds for the restoration of Windsor Castle in 1993

RESTRICTED ACCESS

Much of the palace, including the Queen's private apartments remained closed. For the many official events and receptions, the State rooms are open to visitors every summer

INSIDE THE PALACE

Buckingham Palace has 775 rooms — 19 State rooms, 52 Royal and guest bedrooms, 188 staff bedrooms, 92 offices and 78 bathrooms

RAISING FUNDS

A fire broke out in November 1992 at Windsor Castle destroying 115 rooms. The repairs cost a staggering £36 million. The public opening of the palace helped raise 70% of this

ANIMAL Instinct

Jr NTR's jewelled tiger embellishment on his jacket or Ranveer Singh's bird-shaped brooch, fashionistas are picking statement jewellery pieces in the shape of animals

Husna Sait

MONIKA MONALISA

WHEN fashion designer Husna Sait wanted to make heads turn for an evening out, she picked a bright red dress with bronze pumps, and a classic Bottega Veneta clutch. But the highlight of the look were beetles perched on her shoulder. Not the real ones obviously, but those in the shape of golden brooches.

Giving a breakdown of her look, Sait says she follows the French philosophy of having four-five elements while decking out. "The first one is the outfit, the second are the shoes, the third is the bag, and the fourth is one good accessory," explains Sait, who picked the brooch from city-based jewellery brand The Mauve Unit. "It was initially a bracelet but since I am not a bracelet person, I requested for the bugs to be pulled out from the bracelet and create a brooch. Now, I have two of them in gold," she says.

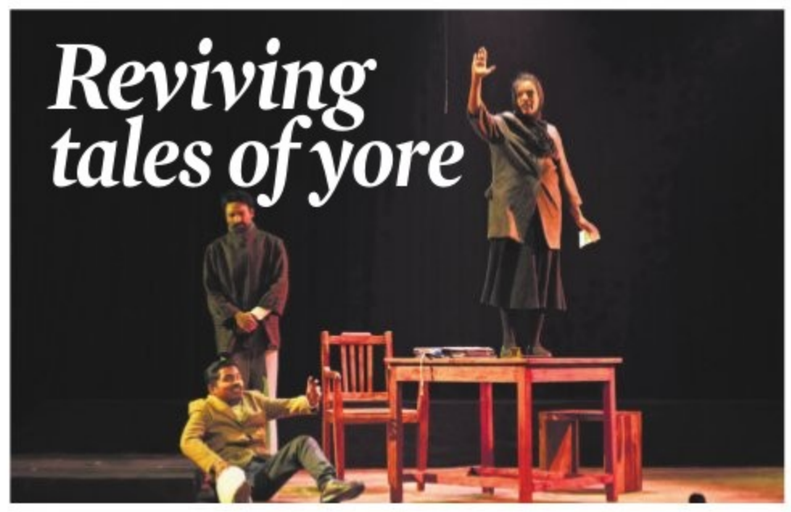
Not just gold and silver, you can add a pop of colour to make it summer-friendly, just like socialite Ila Dorairaj Naidu, who got a hot pink-coloured seahorse to match with her psychedelic-themed Christian Louboutin pumps. "These styles are in with western fashionistas. A lot of the people I follow in the fashion scene in the west right now are using it as a summer-beach look. Big earrings with coral designs. Since I was doing an evening out, I paired it with an under-ocean-themed bodysuit with a black skirt," she adds.

Ila Dorairaj Naidu

The stars are also picking this look for the red carpet. Jr NTR's jewelled tiger embellished on his jacket, Ranveer Singh's bird shaped brooch from Tiffany and Co or Deepika Padukone's panther necklace from Cartier...stars carry their animal spirit in style. Rajini Nayak, owner of jewellery brand Mon Tresor, says this is a quirky and niche style but what makes them special is the craftsmanship. "We don't really stock them, we only customise items. We've done a couple of bracelets that resemble the ones from Cartier...a panther head," she says.

This adaptation of four short stories by Russian playwright Anton Chekhov is a humorous and realistic take on life's injustice and cruelty

Reviving tales of yore



DESE GOWDA

Often regarded as one of the greatest masters of the short-story form, Anton Chekhov's works explored a wide range of themes, including the complexities of the human experience, relationships, the role of class system among others. A new Kannada play to be held at Ranga Shankara on May 2 adapts some of Chekhov's highly-acclaimed short stories. Presented in an anthology format and narrated by a character playing Chekhov himself, Chekhov to Champagne aims to highlight the eternal themes and motifs that the Russian writer explored throughout his career.

Based on a script by writer Hema Pattanashetty, the play is produced by city-based theatre troupe Bengaluru Theatre Ensemble. "There are four stories in the play. The first story explores the complexities of a marital relationship. The second story is about a woman struggling to save her family and the extreme lengths she goes to achieve that. The third explores the insecurities of a shy engineer who believes that he's not being recognised for his work. The final story is about this worker who's very intimidated by his superior and an unfortunate incident leads him to believe that he might get fired," says Abhimany Bhupati, the director of the play and one of the founding member of the troupe. "All these stories, even though written almost a century ago, are still very relevant in today's times," says Bhupati.

Stills from the play

A prominent figure in the realism movement, Chekov's works are notable for their insightful and nuanced themes. Having emerged as a reaction to the romanticised and idealised depictions of the world found in literature at the time, the realism movement sought to portray the world in its actual form – flaws and imperfections included. Chekhov, with his obsessive focus on everyday life, embraced realism and depicted the struggles and hardships faced by the ordinary people of Russia.

That focus on realism is what drew Bhupati and his group to Chekhov's works. "We hadn't really explored realism until this play. All our previous productions explored idealistic and philosophical themes. And when we started to look at realism, we were instantly drawn to Chekhov's works. When we found out that there was a Kannada translation of his short stories, we decided it was an ideal source material for our production," Bhupati shares.

Meanwhile, Bhupati believes that the continued relevance of the short stories, combined with Chekhov's humorous and satirical writing style will mean that the audience will be able to relate to most of the characters in the play.

ENOUGH INTRIGUE IN THIS SOLO ACT

RAGHU
Director: Anand Raj
Cast: Vijay Raghavendra

RATING 3/5

A SHARADHAA

WHEN a film takes on a minimalist approach to storytelling, especially featuring a solo act, there is added pressure of delivering a distinct screenplay. Director Anand Raj has taken up this challenge in his debut film, Raaghu, which features Vijay Raghavendra in the titular role. This thriller flaunts thematic settings, distinct locations, a negative disposition alongside faceless voices that lend sufficient intrigue.

The plot opens with Raaghu (Vijay Raghavendra) being held captive in an abandoned factory, He tries to free himself while being tormented by a rat that is attracted to the smell of his blood. A flashback tells us how as an asthmatic medical delivery boy by day, Raaghu engages in theft with his friend Munna at night. His plan to escape to Dubai with his lover, Jennifer, goes awry when Munna double-crosses him, blackmailing Raaghu to accomplish various tasks to save his girlfriend's life. The narrative goes through multiple gripping episodes — each with its own distinctive title, such as Drug on Wheels, Catch Me if You Can, Ring Master, House of the Dead, The Holy Water, and Karma, the final show — keeping the audience on edge.

The film tantalisingly teases viewers with questions of whether Raaghu will be able to overcome the seemingly insurmountable tasks, and survive the ordeal. The background score by Ritvik Muralidhar adds to the tension and keeps the thriller engaging till the last moment. Vijay Raghavendra's excellent performance, utilizing his skills and talent to the fullest, carries the movie singlehandedly. He fills the screen with his physical performance, making up for the absence of dialogue at times.

DOP Uday Leela's work on lighting and contrast is exceptional, providing a vivid and immersive viewing experience. The cinematographer brings us up close to the actor, who puts himself in a claustrophobic atmosphere and captures events that occur over the course of a single night. Suraj Jois' musical score is equally impressive, with two standout melodies.

The conversations between Raaghu and other characters are crucial in building the story's tension and suspense. Even though no characters are physically present, their voices are heard, adding to the film's immersive experience. Atharv Arya's dialogues pack a raw punch, and the underlying message of "No escape from Karma" is a strong one.

However, some scenes, particularly those set in the police station and at the crematorium during the COVID-19 pandemic, lack logic and seem out of place within the overall storyline.

This might not be the first Kannada movie with a single actor. However, Anand Raj's attempt at a minimalist film with a solo act by Vijay Raghavendra is a commendable feat. For those tired of experiencing grandiose visuals, big action scenes, and exotic locations, this film provides a refreshing and different experience.

A hilarious take on matrimonial matters

RAGHAVENDRA STORES
Director: Santhosh Ananddram
Cast: Jaggesh, Shwetha Srivastsav, Dattanna, Ravi Shankar Gowda, Mitra, and Achyuth Kumar

A SHARADHAA

DIRECTOR Santhosh Ananddram's latest film, Raghavendra Stores tackles the sensitive topics of late marriage, adoption, and surrogacy with a comedic twist. The film, starring versatile actor Jaggesh, is an audacious attempt by the director to push boundaries and deviate from regular commercial entertainers. The beauty lies in the fact that the director manages to not only successfully touch upon marital problems, but confronts them with conviction.

Set in the quaint town of Malnad, Hayavadana (Jaggesh) skillfully manages his father's (Dattanna) iconic eatery, Raghavendra Stores. Though he is over 40, Hayavadana is still unmarried, and is in search of a perfect match. Finally, he meets Vyjayanthi (Shwetha Srivatsav). However, Hayavadana's innermost struggles surface when it comes to fulfilling his desire on the wedding night. Delving into the complexities and intricacies of human relationships, the film explores the joys and challenges of navigating life with a partner. Will Hayavadana finally find his soulmate and fulfill his long-awaited desire for companionship? Or will fate conspire against him, and make his journey a tragic one? The answers to these questions, and more come to the fore in this poignant film that is also a lot of fun.

Known for charting consecutive commercial successes, Santhosh Ananddram goes into uncharted territory with an unconventional theme in his latest project, backed by Hombale Films. The beauty of his approach lies in the fact that he uses comedy to deliver a powerful commentary without offending anyone.

Exploring the intricacies of husband-wife relationships and household issues with a thought-provoking message was best seen in films of director Kashinath. Santhosh too starts off strongly with Raghavendra Stores where he has deftly crafted a film that strikes a balance between lighthearted amusement and serious contemplation.

The theme of a newlywed couple being kept apart and the comic situations that ensue is nothing new to the audience, but the director gives a refreshing outlook to the subject. While there are many scenes that hit the comic highs, a couple of scenes fall abysmally low. Hayavadana looking at hospital beds to consummate his marriage is an exaggerated scene, but the last half hour takes a turn for the better.

Jaggesh's flawless mannerisms steal the limelight yet again, and he carries the entire movie on his shoulders. His comic timing is spot-on and his expressions add to the hilarity. Shwetha Srivatsav makes the most of her opportunity, and tries to make a lasting impression. Achyuth Kumar makes a significant appearance in a parallel track of politics.

Impressive performances come from Dattanna, whose role gives the right perspective as to how elders look at adoption and surrogacy, and how the society still frowns at such issues. Ravi Shankar Gowda, and Mitra known for their comedy are strong support.

The music by Ajaneesh B Loknath with a couple of melodies, and the stunning landscapes of Malnad captured by cinematographer Shreesha Kuduvalli add to the highlights of the film.

The director attempts to mix emotions in the climax, resorting to the often-told messages related to the orphanage. A spread of comedy by the versatile actor and team, akin to a savory meal, blends with an underlying emotional note. Overall, an applaudable attempt by the director, Raghavendra Stores is an excellent opportunity for Jaggesh's fans to celebrate their idol at his very best.

'Macchlakshmi will be one of my most difficult roles to date'

...says Reeshma Nanaiah, who expresses her thrill at being a part of director Prem's upcoming mass entertainer with Dhruva Sarja as the lead

CE FEATURES

We had earlier reported that Reeshma Nanaiah is set to star alongside Dhruva Sarja in Prem's KD. The makers released an official statement announcing the same along with the first look of the actor on her birthday. Reeshma will play the role of Macchlakshmi in KVN Production's next venture.

Sharing her excitement in reuniting with director Prem who launched her in Ek Love Ya, Reeshma said, "Whoever has seen the poster is telling me 'it is mass' and 'unique'. This is a role that will help me prove my acting credentials. While I can't say much about the role, there is no doubt that it will be one of my most difficult roles to date."

Having already shot 15 days for KD, Reeshma shared that she kept asking Prem who he was planning to rope in for KD, and she was in denial when she learnt she was cast in the film. "There were so many screen tests, and I believed that I was in only after I joined the sets."

Reeshma feels grateful to be bagging good roles at the early stages of her career. "Prem Sir himself told me that this role will help me prove myself, and I will have to work extra hard to get into the skin of the character, and into the mental space."

Apart from KD, Reeshma has Baanadariyalli, and Vamana, which are ready for release. She is also part of Upendra's UI, which is currently on floors.

45 will be a thought-provoking entertainer: Shivarajkumar

The film marks the directorial debut of music composer Arjun Janya, and also stars Upendra and Raj B Shetty in the lead cast

CE FEATURES

THE shooting of composer Arjun Janya's directorial debut, 45, starring Shivarajakumar, Upendra, and Raj B Shetty, commenced in Mysore. Geetha Shivarajkumar clapped the first shot of the shooting in the muhurat, which was attended by prominent artists, technicians, and dignitaries from the film industry.

Produced by Ramesh Reddy under the Suraj Productions banner, 45 is also written by Arjun, who will also be composing music for the film. The commercial entertainer will have Sathya Hegde handling the cinematography, editing by M Prakash, and Anil Kumar penning the dialogue.

At the media interaction, Shivarajkumar referred to the film as a thought-provoking entertainer. "The pre-production work has been underway for the last year. Arjun Janya not only narrated the story but also displayed an animation of the movie, which impressed me and the team beyond words," said Shivanna. Raj B Shetty remarked, "As an actor and as an audience, I am excited and curious about 45," he says.

Kaustubha Mani, who is playing the female lead expressed her excitement at appearing alongside such distinguished artists and technicians. "I am thrilled to be playing the role of a bold girl in this film," she shared.

Talking about green-lighting the project, producer Ramesh Reddy said, "I was impressed with Arjun Janya's story and the way he has utilized animation to showcase the movie's concept. We are confident that the film will exceed our expectations," stated the producer. Arjun Janya revealed, "Although we are starting the shoot now, we have been working on pre-production for approximately nine months. Shivanna's encouragement drove me to direct this film. Through this project, I aim to communicate profound philosophical concepts in a simple yet accessible manner, blending both class and mass elements."

The makers have scheduled the filming in 80 days in locations such as Bengaluru and Mysore. Additionally, the film will be made in Tamil, Telugu, and Malayalam, and the team plans to release it in 2024.

THE INTIMATE IN THE GRAND, THE EMOTION IN THE CHAOS

PONNIYIN SELVAN – 2
Director: Mani Ratnam
Cast: Vikram, Aishwarya Rai, Karthi, Trisha, Prakash Raj, Jayaram, Jayam Ravi

SUDHIR SRINIVASAN

SO, Ponniyin Selvan-2. Where do we begin? I suppose a good starting point would be reflecting on the film's own starting point… which instantly bares the soul of both Mani Ratnam films: A steadfast focus on the emotional and the intimate. The film is truly comfortable when it's up, close, and personal with some of its main characters, when it leaves aside, for a moment, all the complex politics and the nefarious schemes that are at play in the big, bad world outside. Consider, for a moment, where the first film ended. A prince seems dead. The king wanted him arrested. Pandiyan spies are out and about to end the Chola reign. A dangerous spy has infiltrated the Chola kingdom. Meanwhile, a challenger for the throne is forging alliances.

Amid such heightened political tension, such tumult, Mani Ratnam makes the audacious decision to open the second film by capturing the beginnings of the tender romance between young Karikalan and young Nandini. This isn't Game of Thrones (there's no equal focus on several conflicting parties); this isn't Succession (there's no detachment or a dark sense of humour). This is Mani Ratnam grounding this epic in the ruins of an adolescent romance. This idea is further cemented when we realise that the king, Sundara Cholan, himself encountered something similar, with someone who didn't look all too different from the woman his son desires. Voila! Does it not make sense then the king should deal with Nandhini the way he did. Isn't that also why he gets Karikalan? "There was a time in my life when I wasn't too dissimilar…"

rues the king. There's the expectation of an extravaganza surrounding these Ponniyin Selvan films, but it is fascinating (and brave?) that Mani Ratnam focusses more on these tight, emotional spaces than on the expansivity of complex politics or grand action. It's evidenced in all those recurring, memorable tight close-ups.

In fact, the film feels almost half-hearted when it's talking about shifty individuals and shifting loyalties. I suppose that's a product of having so much to cover. Here's Madhuranthakan winning over new armies. Here's Pazhuvettaraiyar colluding with chieftains. Here's Parthibendran manipulated by Nandhini. Here's Vandhiyathevan evading some spies. It's a lot, and the film seems almost short of breath as it rushes through them. That perhaps explains why we even get some expository dialogue, like when Vasuki, the maid of Nandini, reminds the latter about her own life—when it seems like she's actually just reminding us. Even at more than 330 minutes (including the first film), it feels like we are merely scratching the surface in our understanding of the many characters populating this universe.

Unless we talk about the likes of Nandhini and Karikalan, of course. Both Aishwarya Rai and Vikram are explosive when called upon. There's a great moment with Nandhini when she takes down Ravidasan by casually remarking that he would never be able to accomplish anything she cannot. And yet, does Nandhini really come off seeming all that powerful or crafty by the end? Almost every single character speaks of her beauty—and she seems like an enchantress aware of the sway she has over people. And yet, I couldn't shake off the feeling that she almost… tapers off, without much consequence. Karikalan is half-dead from the beginning, anyway.

And yet, my most favourite part of this film is the Karikalan-Nandhini face-off at the end. It feels so literary, so rife with possibilities, as both characters grapple with their past, present, and future in a momentous, ominous meeting. As that conversation hurtles towards his breathless, emotional end, it feels like the film does too. As the film sinks into a brief period of mourning following it, I was catching my breath, reeling from what had just happened. Even a war scene later on doesn't come close to matching such conversations for significance and intensity. Everything else after that feels like a post-script.

I wish the film had done more with Kundhavai (Trisha) though. We don't get much of the tactical mastermind she's supposed to be; she's rather reactive in this film. Perhaps her best display of strength is in that scene when she reacts to news of Arunmozhi passing away. Her eyes betray sadness, but she isn't one to outwardly show weakness (not quite unlike Nandhini herself). But I can hardly remember any other moments of fortitude from a woman, who came across as such a pivotal character in the first film. Her most striking contribution in Ponniyin Selvan 2 comes in the form of a delicate love scene with Vandhiyathevan by the waterside.

I suppose it's the scale of the source material that I'm still left with many questions. The transformation of Madhuranthakan. The acceptance of Pazhuvettaraiyar. The motivations and choices of Mandakini. The extent of Nandhini's relationship with Veerapandiyan. I could go on and on, and while I'm not sure if PS-2 is in every way the wholly satisfying experience I sought after the first film, we must remember what it must have taken to finally give us adaptations of a novel Tamil cinema has been too intimidated to touch. With all the focus on Aditha Karikalan and his doomed romance in the Ponniyin Selvan films, I even wondered whether Mani Ratnam might have been more freed, making an Aditha Karikalan spinoff, shorn of the pressures of having to condense all the surrounding material. In fact, if you think about it, despite all the expectations and all the anticipation, PS-1 and PS-2 feel like he's, as they say these days, gone off and done his own thing. That's its own kind of lesson.
